Chain businesses start recovering from flood

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

As if the lagging economy was not enough to worry about, area marinas along the Chain O' Lakes are now finally making money again after the boating season opened some six weeks late.

Local marinas, such as Sequoit Harbor in Antioch and Korpan's Landing in Fox Lake, have found it tough going until the ban on the Chain was lifted.

"We lost six weeks of preparation and water time," said John Moulis, an owner of Korpan's Landing. "Now, we are so busy trying to get everyone in the water that wants to boat."

According to Moulis, it was those six weeks that the Chain was closed that caused the log jam of boaters that now want their boats in the water.

The story is the same in Antioch where Sequoit Harbor General Manager Joyce Gavin said her businesses' 135 boat owners are all itching to navigate their favorite waters on the Chain.

"Right now, we are wall to wall boats," said Gavin. "We are trying to accommodate all of our customers and get them into the water."

High water, according to Gavin, caused some damage to some of the harbor's boat slips as water rose over the property's seawall.

"We had some damage and need to rebuild some piers, but will get those boaters out who wish to get in the water," said Gavin.

Both marinas are hoping for better weather, though, to improve business and possibly make up for the slow start to the 1993 boating season.

"We are going to have an absolutely great summer," said Moulis. Gavin added, "If the weather improves, it will be great for the entire industry."

Township won't oppose plan for riverboat casino

Lakeland Newspapers

In what could prove to be a fatal blow to the efforts to stop a riverboat development in unincorporated Antioch Township, the Antioch Township Board refused to hear a request to discuss a resolution on the casino issue.

The board at its May 13 meeting, refused to second a motion by Trustee

Claudette Skvarce on the casino issue. Township Supervisor Jim Fields said the standing-room only crowd, approximately 80 residents, were there to encourage the board to pass the same anti-casino resolution the Antioch Village Board passed last month.

"The motion died due to a lack of a second," said Fields. "We can't discuss (Continued on page 10)"

Eagle Ridge has traffic woes

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Angry residents of Eagle Ridge subdivision presented a petition at the Antioch Village Board meeting. Liz Haubert read the petition requesting the Village to assist in obtaining turn lanes, deceleration lanes, and no passing zones at the entrance of Eagle Ridge. Eagle Ridge is a new subdivision located off of Route 173 in Antioch.

According to Haubert, the turn lanes were included in a brochure provided by the developer, Fox Development of Richmond when the subdivision was being built.

"We have been told since 1991 that this work will be done and as residents we have been quite patient. But, there have been too many near accidents on that corner," said Haubert.

Tom Hartz, of Fox Development of Richmond explained that the work is actually proceeding on schedule.

"We are committed to put in all of the entrance work" said Hartz, "We are following the schedule required by IDOT."

Hartz explained that when the plans for the subdivision were approved by the Antioch Village Board, the village approved the plan without the requirement of the turn lanes. However, IDOT required the turn lane work.

"The cost is $100,000 for the IDOT requirements," explained Hartz. "We have sent in all of the plans and IDOT made some corrections."

"One of the big hang ups" said Hartz, "was that in order to put in the drive, we would have had to move a utility pole." All of these things held up the work, (Continued on page 10)

Law restricts road use for bicyclists, skaters

Skateboarders will find no place to ride

Lakeland Newspapers

As the summer season begins, more and more bicycles, skateboards and skates can be seen on the roads. But, before hitting the streets, it is important to know the rules and regulations concerning public safety.

The Village of Antioch intends to enforce an ordinance regulating the use of bicycles, skateboards and skates. Individuals caught violating this ordinance are subject to fines of not less than $25 and not more than $500.

Except in the business district, bicycle riders should use any public path or sidewalk adjacent to the street and not ride in the streets or roadways.

But, riders must ride in the streets in the central business district of Antioch. The business district includes Orchard Street, from Hillside to Main; Main Street from Wilton to Depot; and on Lake Street from Hillside to Main.

Historic meeting for Volo's first board

VOLO—History took place on May 13 when Burnell Russell, a Volo farmer, took office as the first Village President of the newly incorporated Village of Volo at that board's first meeting. Only a handful of witnesses saw history in the making as the board passed its first four ordinances and chose its meeting time for future meetings. "The meeting went fine," said Russell after the excitement wore off. "We are going to be all right."

Anti-casino vote never reached table

ANTIOCH—In what could prove to be a fatal blow to the efforts to stop a riverboat development in unincorporated Antioch Township, the Antioch Township Board refused to hear a request to discuss a resolution on the casino issue. The board at its May 13 meeting, refused to second a motion by Trustee Claudette Skvarce on the casino issue. Township Supervisor Jim Fields said the standing-room only crowd, approximately 80 residents, were there to encourage the board to pass the same anti-casino resolution the Antioch Village Board passed last month. "The motion died due to a lack of a second," said Fields. "We can't discuss something unless it has been put on the table."

Trio uses catalog to win history contest

LAKE VILLA—Three eighth-grade Lake Villa Intermediate students made a visual project on the history of the Sears catalog and won their division in the state level of a national history competition. The students are Mariah McElroy, Megan Cole and Morgan Bailey. Their project was one of seven projects to make the regional competition in Wheeling. Then their project is one of two that was selected to represent Illinois in the national competition at the University of Maryland.

Sewer rehab program may save village $250k

LAKE ZURICH—After four years of waiting, the Lake Zurich board of trustees voted on a sewer rehabilitation program that could save the village more than $250,000-a-day. Village Engineer Victor C. Ramirez said the implementation of the program will lessen the amount of water the village needs to treat by almost one million gallons in a normal rain event, saving the village $262,500, the amount it costs to eliminate the excess water.

Students graduate from D.A.R.E.

LINCOLNSHIRE—Graduation exercises for the fifth-grade D.A.R.E. (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) class were held at Half Day School May 17.

The children had given up their gym classes once a week for 17 weeks to learn how to make healthy choices in their lives. Seven students were recognized for their essays on "Taking a Stand".

Recognize safety at rail ceremony

LAKE VILLA—The Illinois Operation Lifesaver Committee will conduct ceremonies honoring contributions to rail safety at noon Friday, May 21, during a stop of the Operation Lifesaver Train. Committee members and guests will be traveling aboard a Metra train operating on Wisconsin Central tracks that will approximate future commuter rail service on the Wisconsin Central. The train is originating in Franklin Park and also will stop at Wheeling and Antioch.

Heliport simulation to be held Saturday

VERNON HILLS—Residents and village officials will have the opportunity to see a demonstration of the Chicago Air Taxi helistop concept at 10 a.m. Saturday, May 22. There is a concern about the noise level not only in Vernon Hills but also in Lincolnshire. The helicopter will land near the intersection of Lakeview Parkway and Executive Way Drive.

Township working to avoid future floods

WAUCONDA—While all the flood water in Wauconda Township has receded, township officials are working on ways to make it less problematic in the future. One way Supervisor James Keagle plans to get help is by making sure the township is included in any remedies other Lake County areas hit by flooding receive. Keagle said the state is concerned with the whole area, not just those visited by the governor. "It was a county-wide problem, not just (affecting) Wauconda Township," Keagle said. Keagle said both state and federal officials knew about the problems for years, and he will be seeking funding from them.

Highland Students hear of Holocaust

LIBERTYVILLE—Holocaust survivor Lisa Derman led students at Highland School on a journey through her terrors in a Polish ghetto during World War II. She and her sister hid in a couch as 10,000 Jews were massacred nearby. Their mother was among those killed. Derman is chairman of the speakers' bureau of the Holocaust Memorial Foundation of Illinois.

Mayor and principal do lunch on the roof

MUNDELEIN—The students at Washington School watched gleefully as Mayor Marilyn Sindles climbed up a ladder to join principal Shirley Anderson for lunch on the roof of their school. Anderson had promised the students she would spend the day on the roof if all of them reached their goals in the Books and Beyond reading incentive program. Sindles graciously agreed to come and have lunch with her.

JAWA offering two tour dates

LAKE BLUFF—Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency is offering tours of its Paul W. Neal water treatment facility May 27 and 29. The May 27 tour will be at 1 p.m. The May 29 tour will be at 10 a.m. For details, call 295-7788. Facility, named after the deceased former Libertyville Mayor Paul Neal, is located at 200 Rockland Rd.

State plan could bring $800,000 for schools

NORTH CHICAGO—North Chicago Dist. 187 officials remain cautious about the coming school year despite an apparent eleventh-hour reprieve from the state legislators this week. A bill approved by the Illinois Senate Tuesday could provide up to $800,000 for the ailing district based on the 1990 census figures which indicate that North Chicago is serving more poverty-level children than were during the 1980 census. "This is money to which we are entitled," said James Walker, Superintendent for special services. "They are trying to make it appear as though they are attempting to save us from dissolution but in reality we had this money coming to us."

Gurnee Days will honor Strang

GURNEE—Gurnee Days Corp. in conjunction with the Exchange Club of Gurnee will honor Jim Strang as the 1993 Gurnee Days Honoree and recipient of the Book of Golden Deeds award. Strang will be honored at a testimonial dinner at Midlane Country club Aug. 12. Event will serve to kickoff Gurnee Days, Aug. 12-15.

Choral Dynamics in anniversary show

LIBERTYVILLE—A merry-go-round complete with horses and band organ music will entertain the audience as they wait for the 25th anniversary production of "A Faire to Remember" by Gerry Traxler's Choral Dynamics at Libertyville High School this weekend. The show will feature Broadway, country, pop, dance numbers and a special production.

Technology increases village's DUI arrests

LAKE ZURICH—The Lake Zurich Police Department has had a distinct increase in driving while intoxicated arrests for the first quarter of 1993. Through April 30, Lake Zurich Traffic Officer Robert Brasky said the number of arrests has increased 60 percent, from 36 to 60. Acting Chief of Police Herb Gehrke said he accounts for the increase due to the officer's making a concerted effort to look for DUI offenses and he cited the increasing emergence of car phones in the area as a substantial help. With cellular phones, concerned drivers can call the police right away so the officers who are already out on the road can hone in on the location immediately, Brasky said.

United Way of Lake County announces campaign chairman

United Way of Lake County President Elizabeth Jan Edgar has announced that Daniel J. LaVista, president of the College of Lake County, has accepted the responsibility of general campaign chairman for the 1993 United Way of Lake County campaign.

"I can't think of anyone more suitable than Dan to lead our campaign this year," said Elizabeth Jan Edgar, United Way of Lake County president. "He's got a keen understanding of the needs that people have in Lake County, and he has a great ability to motivate his volunteers and to impress upon them the importance of impassioned campaigning during this difficult economic climate."

LaVista has been the president of the College of Lake County since 1987 and currently oversees more than 1,000 full and part time faculty and staff. His previous experience includes: Vice President for Academic Affairs for Cuyahoga Community College, Cleveland, Ohio; Chairman Division of Language and Humanities for Lorain County Community College, Elyria, Ohio; Associate Professor of Theater for Illinois State Univ., Normal; Associate Professor of Theater and Chairman, Dept. of Visual and Performing Arts, and Instructor of English for the Community College of the Finger Lakes, Canandaigua, N.Y.

He is active in several professional and community service associations, including: W.K. Kellogg Foundation; Clara Abbott Foundation; and Illinois Presidents Council. His involvement with United Way of Lake County has included serving on the Board of Directors and acting as the Finance Division Chairman.

LaVista earned a doctorate in philosophy, speech and dramatic arts from Syracuse Univ., a master of arts, English literature from the Univ. of Dayton, and a bachelor of arts, English from Siena College in Loudonville, N.Y.

LaVista and his wife, Rosemary, currently live in Libertyville.

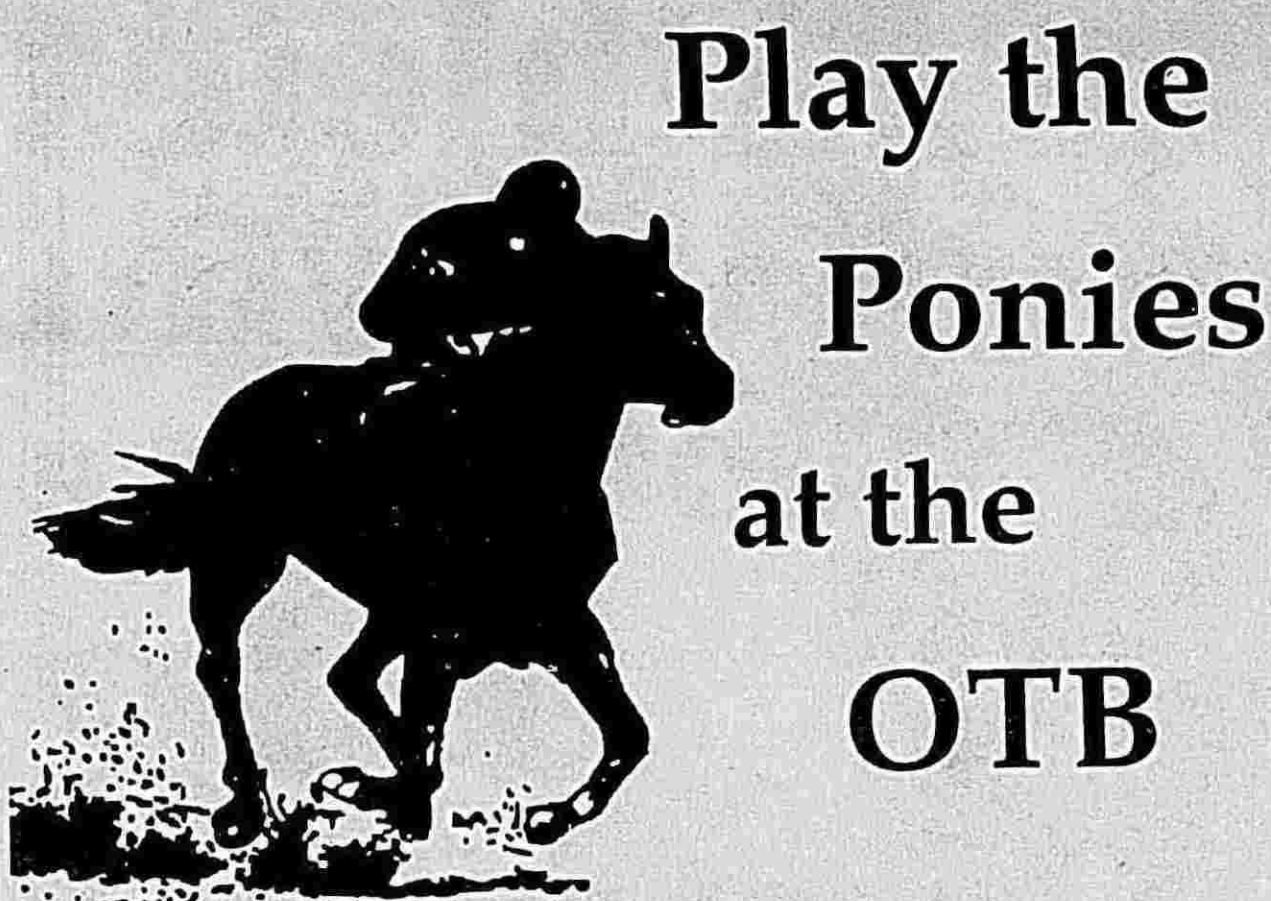

Volunteers in all areas are being recruited as the United Way of Lake County prepares for its 1993 campaign. Anyone interested in participating should call 816-0063.

North Chicago receives grant

The City of North Chicago was recently awarded $391,000 in Community Development Block Grant money from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. The Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Entitlement Program has the primary objective of developing viable urban communities by providing decent housing and a suitable living environment, and by expanding economic opportunities, principally for low to moderate-income persons. The program is directed toward neighborhood revitalization, economic development and the provision of improved community facilities and services.

The City of North Chicago develops its own programs and funding priorities but is limited to activities that are eligible and address one or more of the national objectives of the program. The nation objectives are benefiting low to moderate-income persons, aiding in the prevention or elimination of slums or blight, and meeting other urgent community development needs. The primary emphasis is to benefit low and moderate-income persons.

You Are The Best

To the seventh and eighth graders at Grayslake Middle School, good by. I pray for your continued success. I miss your smiling faces, breakfast club, cookies and ice cream, kid power, ching-ching, and star crunch. You are the best!

Get Off Sofa

I am from Fox Lake and it disturbs me to read nasty comments about our dead town and new mayor. He is an honorable man, and hard working. He deserves respect and support from the community. Fox Lake is alive and well. Get off your sofa and find out for yourself.

Blameless

It is an atrocity what the "old order" has done to Round Lake Beach. As a taxpayer, I want answers to why the new village hall is structurally unsafe. Poor Mayor Davis does not deserve the blame from this situation.

Hollow Road

What about the big potholes we encounter at the Big Hollow School District?

Let's Inspect

I want to know why the Grayslake Fire Inspector does not actually inspect anything. He just sits all day long. Now I hear that the Chief is retiring. I hope they get someone else for his job.

A Little Off The Top

I live in the Pembroke subdivision in Gurnee. I hope that the person who has not cut his lawn since last July will do so soon. It is unsightly and probably unsanitary.

Thank You

I want to thank all the people, and especially the three Gurnee Policemen who bothered to stop and ask if I needed help. My car had broken down on Route 21 in Gages Lake on Monday, May 10. I had more people stop just to ask if they could get me juice or water than you can imagine. My heartfelt thanks to all of you!

Not Funny

I am an 18 year old female that is Pro-life. No, it is not funny that a Pro-lifer killed someone. You can't condemn the actions of a group of people because of one person. Many Pro-lifers were appalled by the shooting.

Parent's Okay

Why is it that you need parental consent to get your ear pierced but not for an abortion. How many women have been killed by legal abortions in the US.? Give life a chance.

Fine The Owners

Poor Wally the cat. I feel very sorry for Wally, but not for his owners. Why did they let that cat run lose in the neighborhood? It is a wonder he wasn't killed a long time ago. It is fine that they feed strays, but there would not be so many strays if people did not turn their cats lose in everyone else's yard. If I turn my dog lose, I would be fined. While the police are trying to find out who hurt this poor cat, why don't they fine the owners.

Great Job

I am calling from Round Lake Beach and think that the job Mary Davis is doing is great. She is looking for ways to save our school district money and parents should get involved to help make this a better school district.

Bail Out Yourself

Voter tallies from the high school referendum show that taxpayers in low lying flood prone precincts voted down the referendum which would have insured quality education for our students. It is interesting now how these same taxpayers are whining to the township to use tax dollars to sandbag their flooded property to bail them out of their self-inflicted flooding.

Rail Not Tie

Last week I called about "Finish The Job". There is a steel rail laying there, not a rail road tie. I can't move it.

Break The Budget

I think that the residents of Grayslake should be aware that officials are trying to build some kind of pool-monument in Central Park. It will raise everyone's taxes so that none of us can live here anymore or afford the services necessary for the upkeep of this community center.

A Stones Throw

The sidewalk across from the railroad station on Nippersink in Fox Lake is covered with stones. It has been like that for a long time. It is like walking on a gravel road. Why doesn't someone sweep this? The town would look a lot better.

A Tip

Got The Boot

Hurray for Mary Davis for standing up and booting out the good ole boys.

Not Our Siren

It is not the Antioch Fire Department's siren, it is the Antioch Rescue Squad's sirens that are keeping you up at night. The Fire Department blows the siren from 6:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. and NOT after that. And, the rescue squad is not part of the fire department.

Remove The Eyesore

For a while now, people have been complaining about the eyesore Avon Motel on Route 120 in Hainesville. Nothing is being done. Last we heard, someone said it was going to be torn down. It should be torn down.

Need More Spaces

Attention Fox Lake Mayor and Trustees: the extension curbs with the trees in the center should be removed. We need more customer parking.

North Shore, Loon Lake celebrates 50th birthday

Lakeland Newspapers

Believe it or not, the North Shore Improvement Association on Loon Lake in Antioch Township, turned 50 last week.

To celebrate the event, the homeowners group held a gala party at the Antioch Country Club which was attended by some 85 people, including a number of direct descendants of the original property owners of the lake's first development in 1943.

"We had a great time," said Association member Lorraine Kurinec, who is the wife of North Shore Treasurer John Kurinec. "We enjoy getting together and partying together."

The 50-year-old private association, limited to Loon Lake property owners, was organized to help provide upkeep for the properties and to control the association's two private beaches and one park. Additional funding is used to pay for snow removal, electricity for lights and other improvement projects.

"We are a self-sufficient organization," said Mrs. Kurinec.

The organization is funded through annual dues, fund raisers and other fees.

According to Mrs. Kurinec, the association consists of year-round, retired and seasonal residents.

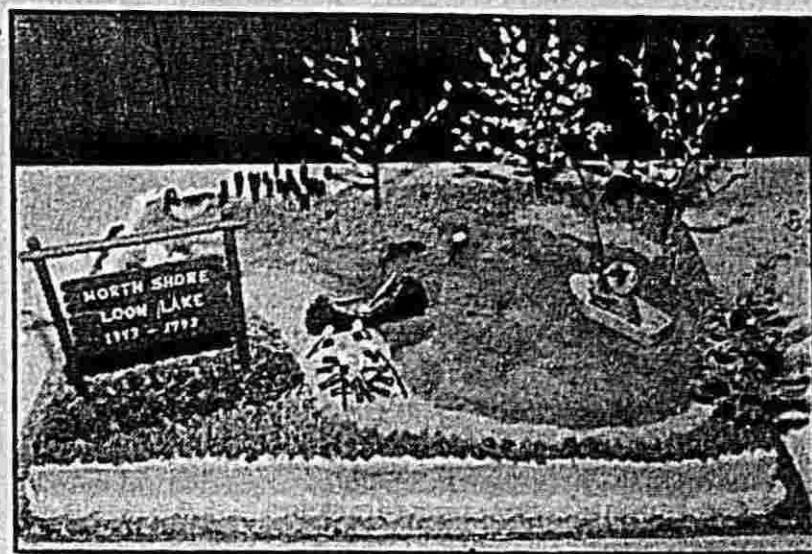

"We have young and old living here," said Mrs. Kurinec.

Loon Lake is one of the cleanest lakes in the United States, according to Mrs. Kurinec and the Loon Lakes Management Association helps keep it that way with their weed removal and dredging projects.

"Our organization is active in many other local organizations, such as the Loon Lakes Management Association, Citizens Against UnSafe Electricity and the Antioch Township Board," said Mrs. Kurinec.

Dredging starts on Chain

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

The summer boating season officially opened as the Chain O' Lakes Waterway Agency began its annual dredging program on May 17 in Antioch Township.

Agency Executive Director Karen Kabbes said that the agency's amphibious backhoe will dredge five Antioch-area channels before it moves the hoe down stream to the Algonquin region of the Fox River on June 10.

"Part of our goal is to have clean water," said Kabbes. "If a channel is shallow, sediment is stirred up every time a boat passes which reduces water quality. By dredging, we will be helping the water clarity."

Kabbes added that the dredging and general clean-up of the Chain is essential because a greater number of people each year are using the Chain, and most do not live in the region.

"Our agency serves an important function because it would be too hard for the homeowners to handle every issue facing the Chain," said Kabbes.

Another concern Kabbes has is what affect the elimination of the dam near Wilmot, Wis. will have on sediment accumulation in the Chain region.

"This year's high water and the elimination of that dam will pose a real challenge for the agency's projects this year," said Kabbes.

In addition, Kabbes said that the agency will be able to "rake" the floor of a channel or lake to help remove debris or submerged objects that hinder navigation.

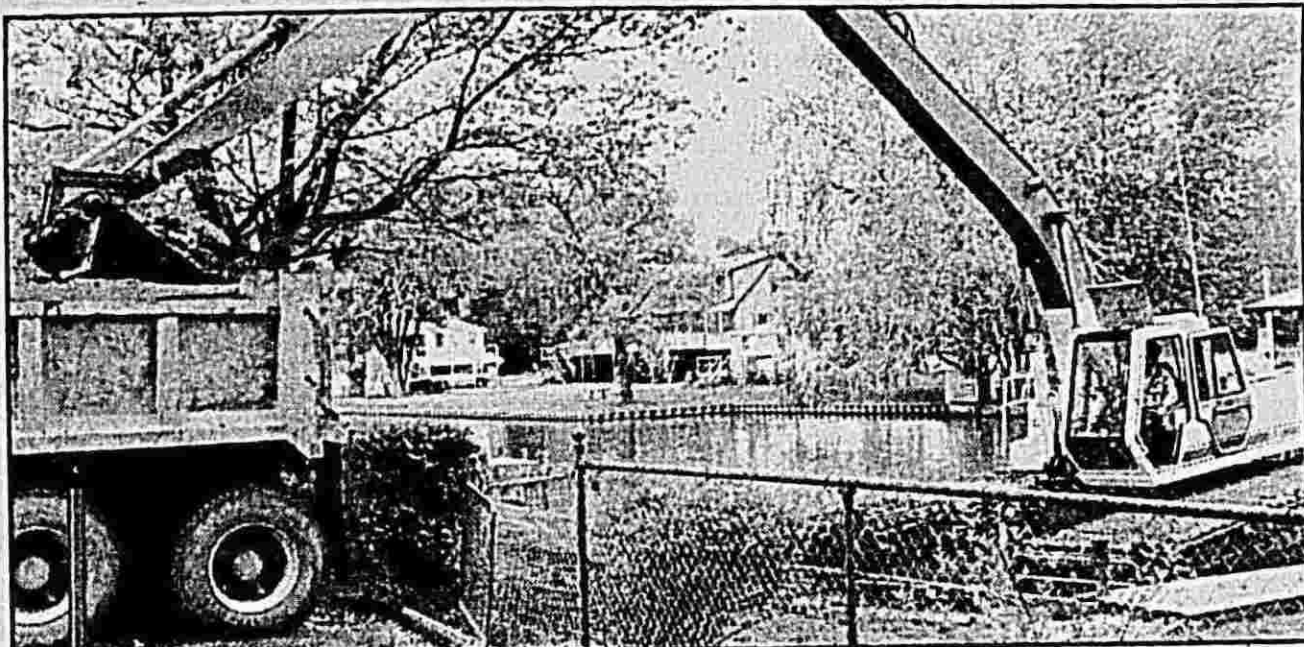

"You never know what you will find down there," said Kabbes.

According to Kabbes, the agency has found washers and dryers, cars and various other debris at the bottom of Chain lakes and channels.

"One guy was pushing old cars out onto the ice waiting for the ice to break," said Kabbes.

The agency is offering the dredged material to those residents who have a use for the sediment. Kabbes adds that all the agency asks is that the requester have all the state and county permits needed to move the material and for its proper use.

According to Kabbes the material has been used as backfill and as top soil at some local developments and a future golf course.

Waterway Agency plans record number of projects

Lakeland Newspapers

The Chain O' Lakes-Fox River Waterway Management Agency, which was designed to ensure the safety of both the lakes and the people who use them, is set to offer a world record number of projects this boating season.

The agency, according to Waterway Chairman Dr. William Dam, was set to get off to an early start, before the water in the area rose dramatically in April causing flooding in many areas near the Chain.

"The water is going down daily and we are just getting back to normal on the water," said Dam.

Dam announced that the first work of the year will occur near Vacation Village in Antioch Township to get that area passable to boat traffic again. Other projects will span the entire Chain from Algonquin to Antioch throughout the entire summer.

The agency announced at its March meeting that it approved 29 dredging and raking projects for the 1993 season.

"This is a record number of projects," said Director George Thompson, co-chair of the dredging committee.

The five projects scheduled for Lake Marie, Petite, and one in Stanton Bay should be completed by the end of the month. The dredging equipment will then be moved south, where 23 channels and sites will receive work on the lower Chain.

"I'm very pleased to finally have our equipment moving," said Agency Supervisor Jon Lund.

Though the high water delayed the start of the dredging operations by over a month, there was one unexpected benefit to the agency. Flood water at the marine base, which housed the equipment over the winter, allowed the crews to float the dredge equipment into the waterway saving the agency the usual $3,000 crane bill to lift the equipment in the water.

Dam added that the Waterway crews are now busy placing safety buoys and removing flood debris from the water before the busy Memorial Day weekend in two weeks.

Sheriff to increase patrols on Chain this summer

Lakeland Newspapers

Lake County boaters beware. If you plan to drive your boat while intoxicated, be prepared to have someone bail you out of jail.

The Lake County Sheriff's Boat Patrol's 39 part-time officers under the direction of Sgt. James Bryant, is on the lookout this summer for boaters who are Operating Under the Influence.

"Every summer we warn area boaters that if they drive their boats drunk, we will arrest them," said Bryant. "We just want everyone to have a good time and be safe."

Bryant said the patrol will continue their day-time beat from 10 a.m. to midnight throughout the Chain, with officers on a response basis the rest of the day.

"We will also continue to increase patrols during the early morning hours after the bars close to ensure the safety of those people on the water at that time of the morning," said Bryant.

Bryant added that OUI's are not the only trouble area when hundreds or thousands of boats are in the water.

"Most accidents happen when people just don't pay attention to what they are doing," said Bryant. "They get caught up in the whole Chain boating scene and forget they are driving a vehicle."

Bryant added that he hopes everyone has a great boating season and wants every boater to remind themselves to be safe while boating on the Chain this summer.

Lizard's 'White Lightning' bites the dust

Contest

Remember me—the non-driver? If so, you must also recall that during the summer months I often get out and about by way of "White Lightning" my faithful Schwinn bicycle.

Recently "White Lightning" has been a bit under the weather. Due to her illness ("gear slippage"), she has left me stranded on several of my recent journeys. Therefore my children decided it was time to put her out to pasture and surprised me with a shiny new bicycle for Mother's Day. It is a pretty little thing, red and white in color and has very nubby wide tires. At the present time, she is nameless.

If you have any suggestions, call me and join "The Lizard's" name the bicycle contest.

There are two prizes waiting to be awarded to the winner—the privilege of naming the Lizard Mobile and a mention in the "Hometown Goodies" column. It just doesn't get any better than that. I'll be waiting for your call, as will my trusty new vehicle.

Money saver

The Antioch Exchange Club hosts a SHARE Food Program each month. People just like you and I are saving 60 percent on groceries each month. A $15 registration fee will give you $35 of various foods.

The registration sites are State Bank of Antioch (both facilities), First National Bank of Antioch, and Lake Villa Township Office. Delivery/pickup location is the Antioch VFW Hall on North Ave. from 10 to 10:30 a.m. The next two scheduled delivery/pick-up dates are June 12 and July 17. Register prior to those dates in order to participate.

Hometown Goodies

395-5380

One more criteria for participation is two short hours per month of some volunteer community service of your choice. Examples of community service are girl and boy scout leaders, church volunteers, school board members, school volunteers, PADS volunteers, etc.

Accomplishments

Little Amanda Tomasello is very proud of her recent accomplishment and stopped by to tell me so. Amanda's exciting news is that in just one day she learned to ride a two-wheeler bicycle without the training wheels. Congratulations, thanks for stopping and you are as cute as ever.

Park and recreation

Once again the Antioch Parks and Recreation Department, under the fine leadership of Carol Todd, has a busy summer planned for everyone. The Annual "Miss" and "Little Miss"

Antioch contest will be held on June 26 (Miss) and June 27 (Little Miss). Applications can be picked up at the Parks Dept. located at 874 Main St. Deadline to enter is Friday, June 11 at 5 p.m.

For more information on eligibility requirements call Carol Todd at 395-2160. Registration for the following three fall programs will be held in August on the following dates and a $25 deposit is required at registration—Camp Crayon (Aug. 7), Me, Myself and Mom (Aug. 2), Village Campus (Aug. 2).

Other activities sponsored by the Parks Dept. are—Tumbling and Things, Tennis Lessons, Day Camp, Lakes Area Community band, Antioch Aqua Center, Lifeguard Training and Tree Program. Again for further information, call 395-2160.

The big 30

Art and Nancy Neckermann celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary on May 4. Art says the manner in which they celebrated this special anniversary will definitely prove to the world that he has a sense of humor. As part of their anniversary celebration/get away, Art escorted Nancy (Daisy Muffin) to the World Clown Assn. Convention. Daisy Muffin (Nancy's official clown name) is a member of Clown Alley in Delavan and also the Clown Hall of Fame. You have probably seen Daisy Muffin in many of Antioch's very own parades.

Congratulations, Art and Nancy, and take it from me, a sense of humor goes a long way in this world. Keep laughing and call again.

Almost fan

I recently learned that Dan Filipis, my fine son-in-law, quickly scans Hometown Goodies each week to see if his "little Princess" Alyssa Janelle is included in the column. I've been told that he barely reads the other articles. Sorry, Dan, as much as Granny Lizard loves her, even I must allow a few weeks in between Alyssa stories.

Do you want me to be labeled as The World's Most Bragging Grandmother? However, if you are scanning this week, read on. I think you will enjoy the next tidbit.

Teachers

In my opinion, children are excellent teachers. I guess it is often referred to as peer pressure. Just remember that peer pressure isn't always bad. This following story may involve our special little lady, however it could apply to many other little people of the world.

With the nicer weather upon us, we quickly discovered that Alyssa Janelle was afraid of sand. This disturbed Granny Lizard as we have a very large sand play area in our yard and also a sand beach—not to mention the sand play area is well-stocked with play equipment and sand toys for Alyssa.

On Mother's Day several of our neighbor's grand children were visiting—ranging in age from two years to about seven years. I encouraged them to come over and play in the sand, thinking Alyssa would soon be tempted to join in the fun. My plan worked. As our playground filled with the little ones, Alyssa's curiosity got the best of her. She tip toed over to the sand toys, watched for a short time and soon she was filling her little sand bucket with the rest of her new found playmates.

Naturally Granny got it all on video and someday I will show it to her and explain how we tricked her into forgetting her fear of sand.

PTO

Don't forget to stop in at Grass Lake School on Sunday, May 23 from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. to enjoy the many fun activities at the Grass Lake School Festival 1993. Carnival games, food concessions, dunk tank, arts and craft sales, bingo games, dancing, music, etc. Find out who is gutsy enough to brave the dunk tank. Many fun activities for both the young and old all rolled into one. This exciting event is sponsored by the Grass Lake School PTO.

Just call

Someone asked me how to get a special item featured in "Hometown Goodies." All it takes is a phone call to 395-5380 or you can even contact me by mail at 41142 N. Clara Ave., Antioch. I'd love hearing from you and the people definitely enjoy reading the special tidbits.

Engagements

Zydek-Fraley

Bruno and Patricia Zydek of Antioch announce the engagement of their daughter, Pamela, to Richard Fraley, son of Donald Fraley of Wadsworth and Pearl Vanderhoef of Kenosha.

The ceremony will be performed at Christian Life Fellowship, Antioch on August 14.

Road work takes off on Routes 173, 132

A pair of contracts have been awarded for highway improvement projects in Lake County by the Illinois Department of Transportation.

A $587,546 contract was awarded for resurfacing and pavement patching of Rte. 173, between Rte. 45 and the Tri-State Tollway, and Rte. 132 (Grand Ave.) between Rtes. 59 and 83.

And a $177,220 contract was awarded for resurfacing of Rte. 134, between Main and Harrison St. in Long Lake and Round Lake, and curb-and-gutter reconstruction of Rtes. 83 and 132.

There will be temporary road closures at various locations during working hours in order to protect work and construction crews.

Both contracts were awarded to Skokie Valley Asphalt Co., Grayslake, which expects to finish the Rtes. 173 and 132 projects by Aug. 20 and complete the Rtes. 134 and 83 projects by June 25.

Motorists are urged to drive carefully in the area and, when workers are present, to "Give 'Em a Brake—Slow Down."

Demonstration skills pace 4-Hers to qualify for state

A quick visit to the Henschen residence in Orchard Valley subdivision and one can see the influence of 4-H clubs.

The awards are readily shown with pride. In fact, one or two of the prior grand champions - the family cats, make a friendly appearance. Then there are the plants. More than a dozen are planted in the Henschen's backyard. Amy Henschen wowed audiences with a demonstration entitled "Stake and Shape", of ivy topiary at the Lake County 4-H demonstration contest.

"I think they're neat," Amy said after showing a visitor some of the techniques. She and her sister Kristen, age 11, are two of the three members of the group "Warren Hotshots" who competed and won a blue award for showing how to make an inexpensive corsage in "Dollars & Scents."

Amy Henschen won grand champion award and will go on to state competition later this month at University of Illinois. The county event was organized by the Lake County Extension Office in Grayslake.

Jessica Broy, age 11, of Grayslake, a member of the Grayslake Eager Beavers, earned the reserve champion award for her demonstration of "cartooning".

The Henschen's both attend Woodland Dist. 50.

Karen Rader, 11, of Wildwood, won a blue ribbon for a foods demonstration "Muffin Mania." Kristin Kavich, age 15, Round Lake Beach, an Eager Beavers member, garnered a blue award for "dog training." She guided her dog, Toto, through obedience routines.

Others advancing to the U of I Summer Events include Broy, a Grayslake Community High School freshman who competed in the regional horse jumping contest held in McHenry and Christopher Smith who participated in a regional dairy judging contest.

Smith, of Antioch, is a member of the Millburn Clovers 4-H Club.

"Any 4-Her can enter the contest. We had a training session a month before. Demonstration is part of the 4-H experience," Pat Henschen said.

Elaine Aaltonen of Gurnee coordinated the contest. The contest was not offered in Lake County for several years. "I wanted to make it happen" Henschen said.

Henschen explained members were given some items and given 10 minutes to create a story. That gives the members community speaking skills.

"They can learn a lot more from other students than me," Henschen said.

Henschen said 4-H club members compete against a scoresheet in the early rounds, against each other later.

Henschen herself competed in 4-H contests as a youth.

First Chicago sponsors concerts

First Chicago Bank-Antioch and their customers presents the first of three free bands in their 1993 "Concert in the Park" series.

On Saturday, June 12 from 6 to 8 p.m. they will offer the Country and Western Band "Sierra." The band has five members and promises a lot of fun.

Bring lawn chairs and blankets to Williams Park. Also bring an appetite as the Antioch Jaycees will be selling food and beverages to help raise funds for community projects they sponsor. Some seating will be available, but it will be more "Ravinia Style" seating.

First Chicago Bank's Concert in the Park series will continue throughout the summer with "The Grease" Band, July 24 at the Taste of Antioch and the "Lakes Community Band" back at Williams Park Sept. 12.

Ginny Baker, head of the Young Author's Program at Millburn School, with Karen Jendrzewski whose book will represent the school at the Illinois Young Author's Conference.

Millburn has young authors

Millburn School has become a school of authors this year. The school has participated in the "Young Authors" program for a number of years, but this year the staff went "all out" and accomplished 100 percent participation from the students.

During the months of January and February, the students enjoyed the challenge of writing and publishing a book of their own. The classrooms buzzed with activity as they worked their way through the writing process, to illustrations, and then on to the thrill of their own completed book.

The difficult part was choosing a top book to represent Millburn School at the Illinois Young Authors Conference. This year's winner was "My Unusual Present" by Karen Jendrzewski.

Jendrzewski attended the conference in Bloomington on May 14 and 15. She shared her piece in sessions with other sixth graders.

A highlight of these sessions was the visit by a well-known published author who discusses writing and answered questions from the young author winners from all over Illinois. Students also received a copy of the authors' book to keep as a memento of this experience.

Congratulations to all of the authors at Millburn School.

AARP to hold indoor picnic

On May 25 Antioch Area Chapter 387 of the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) will hold their annual picnic indoors at the Antioch Senior Center.

Because of the unpredictable weather experienced in other years, members have decided to have the picnic indoors. The members will enjoy a chicken dinner (KFC) and other refreshments. Cards and bingo will be played. Cost to members will be $1. Picnic lunch will be served at noon.

Di Marco's asks board to permit outdoor eating

Di Marco's restaurant made a request to the Antioch Village Board for a permit or license for an outdoor cafe. Currently the restaurant, on Main Street in Antioch, has umbrella tables on the sidewalk in front of the restaurant. However, these tables are used for waiting patrons and no food or alcohol can be served.

"I think that the tables and umbrellas are very flattering for the downtown area," said the Di Marco's.

Nevertheless, the board must take some unresolved issues under consideration before granting a permit. Insurance questions, barrier problems, and municipal ordinances must be evaluated before approval can be given. Also, the Lake County Board of Health must give their approval before anything can be done.

Poppy Day

Remember Veteran's with a donation on Poppy Day, May 28. The Lake Region Post 703 Auxiliary Ladies and Legionnaires will be out. All this money helps area Veteran's.

Gold stars

Park Meeting

On Wednesday, May 19 there will be a meeting of the Antioch Park Board at 7 p.m. in the Village Hall. The meeting is open to the public and all are welcome.

Open House

The members of the Antioch Rescue Squad would like to invite the public to an open house on Sunday, May 23. The open house will be held from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the Antioch Rescue Squad Building on Orchard Street.

Learn what to do in case of an emergency. There will be a demonstration of the "Jaws of Life" and a visit from the "Flight for Life" helicopter at 2 p.m..

Everyone is welcome, so be sure to bring the kids.

Swamp Squad

The Woods and Wetlands Group of the Illinois Chapter of the Sierra Club will hold a Swamp Squad meeting Thursday, May 27 at the Antioch Public Library starting at 7:30 p.m. The purpose of the meeting is to further discuss what citizens of Lake County can do to protect the vast wetlands in Antioch and Lake Villa Townships.

Singers needed

The Antioch 4th of July Committee is asking for people who enjoy singing to participate in the Antioch 4th of July choir. On July 3 the choir will perform on Main Street prior to the parade and at Williams Park prior to the Children's Festival. On the evening of July 4 they will perform prior to the fireworks. To participate in this patriotic event as part of this elite choir, contact Linda Pederson at 395-7000 or Mabel Lou Weber at 395-4210.

Athlete of the Week

Dave Remter was selected as Athlete of the Week for the week ending May 1. Dave placed first in the disc and second in the shot at the Crystal Lake Invitational. He threw the disc 149 feet and 4 inches, the best in Lake County to date. The First Chicago Bank of Antioch will make a donation to the high school scholarship fund in the name of Dave Remter. Congratulations to Erin Bonales in softball for also being named athlete of the week. With Remter are Jolene Wulf, bank representative, and Norm Hahn, Boys Track Coach.

Sequoit Pride congratulates efforts of ACHS students

Sequoit Pride, the support organization for Antioch Community High School, would like to congratulate the following students for their outstanding effort.

Amy Litchfield has been named Student of the Month of March by the Antioch Exchange Club. Amy was selected for her outstanding community leadership and academic standing.

Senior Carrie Holbo had been awarded the Hamilton Ridge Scholarship from the GFWC Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs and a college scholarship from Service Merchandise Co., Inc. Scholarship awards are based on academic and community service criteria.

This summer, sophomore Christopher Kucera will be attending the Connie Belin National Center for Gifted Education at the University of Iowa. Selection is competitive and based on high scores on the pre ACT-PLAN test.

Erin Bonales has been awarded an academic scholarship to Southern Illinois University which covers the cost of full tuition, room and board, fees and books. Erin received the award for her outstanding scholastic record at ACHS.

Junior Nicole Haenchen will participate in the Miss Illinois Teen Pageant in late June at the Woodfield Hilton. The pageant is part of the Miss Teen USA pageant and involves competitions in state costume, swim suit and evening gown categories. Best of luck, Nicole.

Rotary foreign exchange student Kathy Holmes, currently studying in Kuopio, Finland, graciously accepts all invitations offered by her foreign hosts. She recently accompanied a Rotarian to work and found herself witnessing open heart surgery conducted by a world renowned heart specialist. Kathy credits her "Viking blood" in allowing her to maintain her composure throughout the procedure.

Congratulations to the Antioch Academic Team for winning the regional meet and best wishes for the State Finals in Springfield. Members of the Academic Team are Mike Beadle, Ryan Bell, Steve DeRue, Morgan Hirst, Keith Jackson, Elizabeth Shehorn, and Steve Spronk.

The ACHS freshmen girls' softball team is currently undefeated having won nine games. Best wishes for future success. ACHS alumna Pam Oldenberger, former drum major for the Marching Sequoits, is studying to become a missionary to Bolivia. 1991 graduate Jennifer Holbo is currently attending college in Maastricht, Holland and traveling throughout Europe as part of the Teikyo International University campus exchange. Alumna Julie Lamusga, currently a scholarship student at Harper College, has been awarded an academic scholarship to the University of Chicago.

Eagle Ridge

according to Hartz.

Haubert, on the other hand, wants immediate action. "We have heard this for two years" she told the board. Haubert claims her own family had almost been hit five times.

Haubert said that she talked to the police about this situation and they told her that there was nothing they could do about it.

"Nothing can be done until a dead body is out there and I will be damned if it will be mine!" announced Haubert. "We want some action taken."

The developer has sent a letter to the Village stating that the plans call for construction to begin on June 14 and allot 30 days for completion. Haubert claims that there is no guarantee that work will actually begin on that date.

"Plans previously approved does not guarantee that the permit has been issued to start that work. Yet alone, finish it by a certain date" charged Haubert. "We also have his word, we also have writing that this was to be done two years ago."

In an effort to help, the village has placed a stop sign at the exit of the subdivision. The village board has promised to make this a priority and recognize that there is a problem.

"I think we are going to get on his tail and stay there" assured Trustee Don Amundsen.

Law

The regulations for skaters are the same as for bicycle operators. In addition, both must follow all Illinois traffic rules including stopping for school buses.

Skateboarders are not allowed to ride on village streets, sidewalks in the business district, or in parking lots. In order to operate on a private road or parking lot skateboarders must get written consent from the owner. Furthermore, being pulled by a motor vehicle while on a skateboard violates the ordinance.

These rules and regulations are for both the safety of the operators and the general public. With school ending soon, parents should take special note of these regulations and instruct their children accordingly.

something unless it has been put on the table."

Fields added that he would like to keep an open mind on the riverboat issue, due to its possible economic, tourism, tax relief, and employment benefits to the area.

A news release by the Fox Riverboat Limited Partnership said that the developer is ready to release concrete solutions to many of the concerns of Against Riverboat Casino group, but offered no solutions as of Lakeland Newspaper's press deadline.

Use Your Beepers

The Antioch Fire Department does not blow the siren at night. We only blow the siren from 6:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. to warn people on the street. The siren you hear all night is the Antioch Rescue Squad. They are a private organization not part of the fire department. Tell them to use their beepers at night. We have for five years!

Supports Riverboat

Riverboat go, go, go. On 5/13/93 I attended the town council meeting in Antioch. The big issue, Riverboat L.P. At the standing room only meeting, I was happy to see riverboat supporters. Thank you for stepping out. Good work.

Smoke There's Fire?

I am from Round Lake Beach and I do not think that anonymity is a problem with Lipservice. If not for Lipservice, we would not know the things that we do. Perhaps, at times, people shouldn't say things without back up. But many of these comments are made so that someone will check into them. I believe that the majority of the things in here are true. By the way, I am a college graduate not a simple minded idiot.

You Can Pay

This is to all the Pro-lifers: first of all, I would prefer that children (underage teens) did not have children. I'd also rather pay for an abortion than pay for the support of a child on welfare. And, you Pro-lifers, can pay for the doctor bills, hospital bills, and child raising costs for all the children we do not want. You can also pay for the adoptions. Pro-lifers should spend their time where it will do some good, not when it is too late - in front of an abortion clinic. Go to schools and educate these kids before they get into trouble. PS: Lipservice, I love your Jaws music.

Let Go

Mr. Cunningham, let go. We have lost a lot of trustee candidates because of you. There was something wrong with this past election in Antioch. Things will never change here if we keep electing the same people. I have heard you have gold faucets in your house. Now, we will see if Lipservice prints this.

Politics As Usual

I live in Round Lake Beach, a registered nurse, and mother of three. I hope that Ralph Davis and the Reclaim the Beach party do all the good things they have promised. But, I am a little doubtful. I think the appointment by Mr. Davis of an individual who left his last job under questionable circumstances is simply politics as usual. How could he hire this man? There were some allegations of harassment of citizens! I believe this is politics as usual.

Good Letter

Great letter to the editor, Larry Fribarger of Lake Villa. It was an excellent letter about killers on the highways. My young sons were nearly run down by a truck that flew through a bus stop. He threatened 5 and 6 year olds on Deep Lake Road! I understand that 12 people have died on that road already. And, this truck carrying a load for profit, threatened yet a few more youngsters. Let it be known, we are looking for you.

Wants To Buy It

I have a gripe against the Lake County Housing Authority. They have paid back taxes on a house in Round Lake Beach. They gutted, repaired, but refuse to sell the house when approached. They say they want to rent it to low-income families. Why do we taxpayers have to pay for the renovation of this house? And, you know that whoever rents it will destroy it so that we can pay for its repair again.

Insomnia Cure

I am 78 years old and sleep like a log. But, I keep busy all day long so the fire alarms do not keep me awake. Say your prayers and you won't even hear the fire alarm. I am from Antioch.

Stinky Deal

To the person who wrote "Float Your Boat", there is a sewer deal tied up with the casino boat. There was a county meeting about that. But, when the deal comes through and they put the sewer through the township, it is going to cost $15,000 to hook up. And, they will give you 10 years to pay it off. That is probably why it wasn't publicized. Because everyone in the township would be out against the boats if they knew about this. But, that's Mr.

Fields. He keeps everything under his hat. Maybe he'll get a rebate on this thing. I want the people of Antioch Township to know that you are going to get a real shafting when this sewer deal comes through.

We Have To Pay

I have read that the new mayor of Round Lake Heights has a lot of conflicts of interest. Especially, with liquor licenses. I am a senior citizen on a fixed income, but learned that the Mayor has not paid a single garbage collection bill. The poor seniors in the area have to pay for every little service we get. That's appalling. We don't have the right to refuse it, why does he?

Thanks Ralph Davis

Five months ago on a wet December evening, a stranger knocked on our door. He introduced himself as Ralph Davis. He said he was running for mayor of RLB. My wife and I had never voted in a local election. However, we were amazed that this guy cared enough to go door to door. We decided that if he was willing to do that, we could at least go vote for him. When we learned that he won by only 3 votes we were excited. It meant that our vote was important. This is a lesson we needed to learn and would like to thank Mr. Davis for making it possible.

Bad Attitude

I have been reading about all the problems with our new mayor. But, he better get his head out of the chicken and window washing business and keep an eye on his children. His child is pushing people around and telling people, "My Daddy is Mayor." Isn't that a great attitude?

Work With Us

I'm not with Gus. People should not park in other people's yards. Even if it is an easement, these people have to take care of it. Thank goodness school is almost over. Maybe next year people will realize that we are just doing our jobs and keeping our lawns up. Maybe Gus is a renter and doesn't care about the lawn. Come on Gus, work with us.

Hang Up Your Keys

I am an angry resident of Round Lake Beach. I have three kids and live on a very busy street. Cars fly by my house all the time. RLB is supposed to be a family community, and everyone knows that family means children. If you do not know how to slow down and watch for kids, hang up your car keys.

Stop Complaining

Every time I hear the sirens in Antioch, I am reminded that the volunteers are rushing to the station to help someone in trouble. It gives us a chance to offer up a

Edison conservation efforts attract attention.

We're pleased to report that the recreation and conservation areas we've created across Northern Illinois are drawing a lot of visitors. Many, it seems, of the human variety.

In fact, last year, well over 1,000,000 people stopped by and enjoyed themselves, interested in everything from fishing and boating to bicycling and fossil hunting.

If that sounds interesting to you, phone for our free booklet, "A Place For All Seasons," which lists the locations and how to get there. For your copy, call 1-800-Edison-1.

Day care at school

Program being studied by Dist. 95 offers special benefits for latch-key children.

A new social service---providing day care---is being carved out for the public schools which have been sagging under the weight of mandates and demands in recent years.

Only this is one service that not only is needed and in much demand, but a contribution for community good that probably can be performed without heaping additional burdens on taxpayers.

The service is providing before and after-school day care or perhaps, more accurately, making before and after-school day care possible. Typical of what the schools could do is a plan being studied by Lake Zurich School Dist. 95 where the school would rent rooms for a program that would be administered by Buehler YMCA.

Supt. Edward P. Cox said the program is designed to be "revenue neutral." The Y will provide child care for a fee and pay Dist. 95 rent. Lake Zurich is looking at a service that would provide morning care from 7 to 8:30 o'clock and an after-school segment from 3 to 6 p.m.

Because the available care time is tied closely to school hours and on school property, the program probably won't compete that much with private day care centers which are designed to focus on pre-school children. The Lake Zurich-YMCA plan sounds like the concentration will be on "latch-key" children, the ones who quite often wind up fending for themselves after their parents leave for work and before pop and mom get home at night.

If that's the case, there is no doubt that day care with the school tie-in will be beneficial. Whether it will be workable remains to be seen. That's where the Dist. 95 study will be helpful for both Lake Zurich and neighboring communities where there is a demand for more day care facilities.

Forget Bosnia fighting

President Clinton's agenda should be spilling over without adding conflict in modern Yugoslavia.

Pitty poor President Bill Clinton. Life these days in the White House is an endless tug-o-war. The unflinching, ultra-confident candidate of 12 months ago has become an uncertain, waffling chief executive.

President Clinton is tugged this way and tugged that way. Seemingly so self-assured and focused before inauguration, Clinton today leans toward whichever way the ropes of special interest groups are exerting the greatest pull. One tug the president should ignore is the pressure for military involvement in Bosnia.

Before the end of the Cold War, the reason for U.S. intervention was preventing the spread of communism. The Bush administration pointed to a mad dictator and economic reasons to justify use of military force in the Persian Gulf. Now there is the haunting refrain for Americans to go to Bosnia to prevent "another Holocaust."

None of these reasons hold water today. Clinton has only to look at his own campaign agenda to find reasons aplenty to occupy his time and the nation's without trying to unravel the nightmare that has ensnared what we used to know as Yugoslavia. Forget Bosnia, President Clinton.

Weather a Navy plus

Changing seasons contrast to unchanging support in local community for Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

Illinois political leaders told civilian members of the Defense Base Closure and Realignment Commission something Pentagon officials already know: The Navy has a good thing going for training sailors at Great Lakes Naval Training Center. And the politicians spoke with good humor.

How else to turn some of Lake County's damnable winter weather into a plus for commissioners who must make a recommendation within the next month on which military installations should be closed? Gov. Jim Edgar, leading a hearing delegation, asked with a grin, "Who said naval training is a vacation?" Congressman John Porter told the bitter truth: "Yes, we do have seasons."

Lake County Board Chairman Robert Depke made a telling point that neighboring communities are "caring, supportive and hospitable" to sailors. An eye-opening statistic coming out of the testimony was the fact that Great Lakes possesses 924 undeveloped acres for future expansion of the 1,628-acre facility, already regarded as the world's largest naval training center.

Now that all the testimony is in, plaudits are due members of VOICE, the citizens' group fighting for Great Lakes' survival who early on learned of the threat to the base and organized political and community support to save this vital cog in the economy of Lake County. VOICE volunteers are the unsung heroes of the fight to save Great Lakes.

Viewpoint

Dollar rules when 'cents fails

by BILL SCHROEDER

There are limits to how far officialdom will go to implement protestations in our modern PC (politically correct) society. And the limits have to do with dollars.

That's the way we understand the solution derived by the University of Wisconsin Athletic Board recently when a rather obscure subcommittee found that it was offensive and demeaning for the Badgers to compete against any school with a nickname and/or logo demeaning or offensive to Native Americans.

The subcommittee was ready to scrap a long standing university athletic relationship with the University of Illinois because of its nickname, the Fighting Illini, and its symbol, Chief Illiniwek. That stance caught the attention of both U of I loyalists who responded with haughty questions about Wisconsin's questionable athletic prowess and UW officials who decided it might be time to put all this PC business in proper perspective.

As the PC stalwarts in Madison called for Chief Illiniwek's scalp, Wisconsin athletic leaders toted up the expense and ramifications of trashing schedules.

Viewpoints questionable

Editor:

We are all entitled to our own points of view, but when those points are published in your Lipservice column that are contrary to fact or published law, I find the purpose of this feature, and the responsibility of its publishers, highly questionable and a disservice to readers.

How to dampen tourism

Editor:

It has been with some enthusiasm that the residents and businessmen of our area have been greeting the beginning of the new season. Even with the flood, the restaurants, sportsman clubs and marinas have anticipated the end of the economic slump and a new wave of tourism and general enjoyment of our great Fox River and Chain of Lakes area.

What a damper effect the proposed closing of the McHenry Locks, except for the limited hours of 12 noon to 8 p.m., will have. We who were sworn in "to promote tourism and recreation" and the economic well-being of the residents of Illinois, are stunned and angry that this has been proposed.

Our agency board unanimously and strongly objects to this proposed change. We offer the support of our entire office to make possible the reversal of this decision.

Dr. William C. Dam,
Chairman Chain O'Lakes/
Fox River Water Mgt. Agency

Volunteers support athletes

Editor:

Every year for the past five years I have run a weekend tennis camp for the developmentally disabled. This year 50 athletes from around the state spent two days at the Libertyville Tennis Club honing their skills, playing games and having lots of fun.

Every year I am reminded that, despite the news reports that always seem so negative, there is a ton of kindness and generosity that still exists in this world.

This is demonstrated as our camp has become a community affair. Individuals and groups donate food, time and money to make this a huge success. Members of the Libertyville Tennis Club, the Village of Libertyville and all surrounding communities give up some or all of their weekend to assist in the on court duties, the food preparation or in the hospitality area.

The Jr. Women's Club of Libertyville again prepared and served the Saturday lunch. Rita Grunert headed up this committee as her group fed 140 people.

Leader volunteers for the weekend were Nancy Mieszala, Becky Gifford and Phyllis Wilkens. Assistant leaders were Joy Nebergall, Carol Bolfer, Carol Kulchawik, Debbie Ratfelders and Kathy Cashman.

This program is held in conjunction with Special Olympics so a special thanks to Janet Cappety, training director for Northeastern Special Olympics for all her hard work.

Without everyone's help we could not run this event. It was an outstanding success due to the cooperation of everyone. Our athletes went away better people and better tennis players due to the efforts of all involved.

Sammies: fast food is a family tradition

Sam and Joe Guinta used to play gin rummy in the kitchen at Sammies on winter afternoons when business was slow.

"It was pretty quiet the first few years; it wasn't always gravy," said Sam, co-owner of what is now a bustling food stop on Rte. 120 in Grayslake.

It's been 21 years since the brothers bought the little ice cream stand in 1972.

They started out serving up hot dogs and fries at their father's stand in the Portage Park area of Chicago.

"I used to come up here to visit my grandparents," said Sam. "The owners here were looking to sell, so we decided it was time to expand."

"It was like a Tastee Freeze, just open in the spring and summer. We added food products, Italian beef, Chicago-style hot dogs, Samburgers."

"We stayed open year 'round. Winter afternoons were slow but summer nights were busy."

Joe added, "We were the only ones open then. We drew from all the areas around here. We had a good increase in business because of the additional people in the area."

"Grayslake has grown into a bedroom community," says Sam. "We're on the outskirts. Most of our business here is at lunch."

In the early years, one loyal customer repeatedly inquired about a job for her teenage son.

"We didn't need much help in the winter," says Sam.

They finally found a spot for him in the spring of 1976. Dave Keith is now owner/operator of the Sammies in Round Lake, which opened in 1982.

"They treat me like a brother," he says.

"We try to make it a congenial place to work," says Sam. "We want kids that really want a job."

Dave has noticed that the kids who leave his store to go to work for one of the chains generally come back.

"It's a lot of thinking and decision-making," says Dave, who lives above the store. "but I don't have to drive to work."

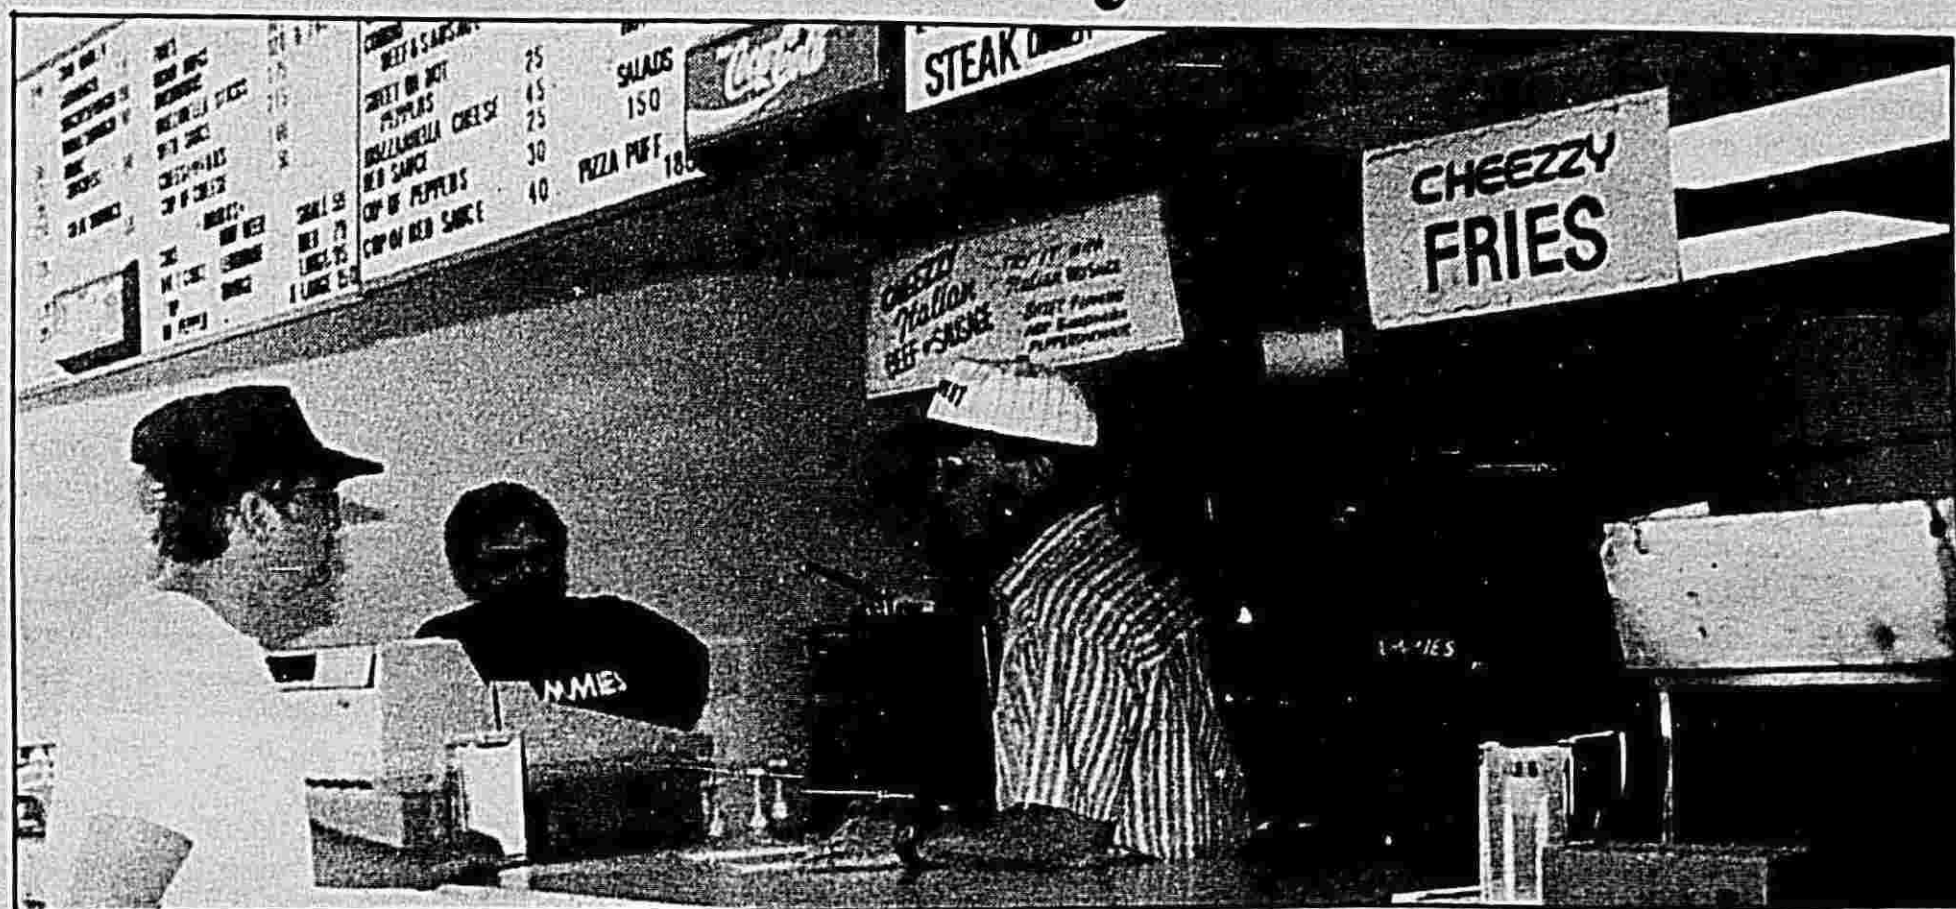

The Round Lake store has been serving gyros for the past seven or eight years.

"It's the largest-selling item in the evening now. Almost every order then has at least one gyro on it," says Dave.

He's getting ready to add another specialty item for dinner but wasn't ready to divulge what that might be.

"We have more dinner business," he says, "we're more centrally located in the neighborhood."

from a 10-foot-by-10-foot tent to a facility which seats 100 people.

"All the food is char-broiled," says Joe. "It's definitely the food of the fair."

Will there be a string of Sammies in Lake County someday? Sam was non-committal.

"If we were to see a good location we would consider it," he said. "The problem with establishing another location is that you need qualified help. Everything here is made to order."

Sam and Joe have another loyal employee in Tom Sheehan, who began in the Chicago store 12 years ago.

Sam and his wife Patti live in Northbrook. She lends a hand during peak hours and his son Dominic, a student at the College of Lake County, is also expected to pitch in.

Joe, who still lives in Chicago, says his wife Donna helps out on weekends and every year during the Fair.

"She was manager of the Chicago store," he says.

"Over the years we have served quality food and we have the best service," says Sam. "Some people move away and then come back when they're in the area and order the same thing. We still make it the same. Sometimes people will take a bunch of food back home with them."

Patti adds, "We don't take fast food for granted around here."

Schroeder appointed circulation manager

Robert J. Schroeder has been named circulation manager of Lakeland Newspapers.

Schroeder will be responsible for circulation growth and development of the 14-paper Lake County newspaper group and distribution of the Great Lakes Bulletin, official newspaper of Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

The new manager previously held positions as route supervisor and distribution supervisor for Lakeland. Schroeder also has experience in retail advertising and special events promotions for the newspapers.

He has studied newspaper circulation at the American Press Institute, Reston, Va., and has been active in the Illinois Circulation Managers Assn.

Schroeder, a graduate of Carmel High School, attended Purdue University and is doing degree work in business administration at Marian College, Fond du Lac, Wis.

Park city woman is rep of the year

Robin Carneke, of Park City, was named 1993 Representative for the Year for the Illinois Youth Involvement Council. Carneke is the new accounts supervisor at Great Lakes CU and serves as IYIC representative for the Thomas W. Doig Chapter of Credit Unions.

The IYIC is a non-profit organization made up of 29 young credit union professionals in Illinois. Their mission is to ensure the future of credit unions by involving young people as members, employees and volunteers in credit unions. IYIC is a part of the Illinois Credit Union System.

Carneke, a Mundelein native, was chosen by her peers for this coveted award in recognition of her numerous voluntary accomplishments during the past year.

Bay windows add a scenic point of view at lakes development

Bay windows are a common sight in single family homes, both attached and detached, but the extra vistas they provide are not often seen in condominium buildings. A quick look at most any local condominium building will confirm the fact that while balconies may often punctuate the building's facade, specific window styles are rarely seen beside them.

However, bay windows are a part of the living room decor in three of the six floor plans offered at the Lakes of Lincolnshire Condominiums in north suburban Lincolnshire by Bernard Katz & Co. Inc., a condominium developer in the area. The community's penthouse apartments follow the same theme, with palladian windows along the 13 1/2 foot walls.

"Since the Lakes of Lincolnshire was first drawn up, one of our goals was to address the 60 luxury condominiums as if they were single-family homes," said

David Katz, executive vice president of the Skokie based firm. "That includes window treatments, and bay windows combined with the uncluttered view of the adjacent Marriott Lincolnshire golf course and the lake is a natural."

The Lakes of Lincolnshire Condominiums' six floor plans feature two or three bedrooms and range in size from 1,991 to 2,907 square feet. Base prices range from $237,000 to $401,000 in Phase II, while remaining plans in Phase I are priced from $280,000 (prices and availability subject to change without notice). Built in two six story buildings joined by a first floor indoor garage, the condominiums feature two or 2 1/2 baths, and five of the six plans include family rooms. Models opened in mid-March.

"Windows can add elegance to a room before a single stick of furniture is added," said Katz, "and the natural light they transport is appreciated by most home buyers."

And the bay windows open into living rooms that rival the view when it comes to size. The living rooms measure from 16 by 25 3/4 feet (412 square feet) to 24 1/4 by 17 3/4 feet (420 square feet).

Remodel without being taken to cleaners

With the warmer months approaching, many homeowners who are considering home improvements may be frightened by the horror stories of dishonest contractors.

The good news is that by asking the right questions and looking in the right places, a professional remodeler can be found to do a job that will not only raise the home's value, but also make the home more enjoyable for many years to come.

With May being National Remodeling Month, this is a particularly appropriate time to consider making dreams of home improvements a reality.

Many homeowners like the neighborhoods and don't relish the expense and trouble of moving, but want a change in space or amenities. Remodeling makes it possible to upgrade and expand without moving and often rewards the investment with a higher sale price if the house is later put on the market.

The percentage of a remodeling investments which will be returned depends on the job and the number of years until the house is sold. A minor kitchen remodel can return 100 percent of the initial investment, while a new skylight illuminating a room could return even more. A rule of thumb is that any improvement which brings a home up to the level of similar house in the same neighborhood is a good one.

While it may be tempting to go with the lowest bid, be careful. No two remodelers will do a job exactly the same way. When soliciting bids, be specific as possible and ask the bidder to specify the materials and brand names on which they are basing the bid. Be especially wary of bids significantly lower than the range indicated by the others.

Vocational center gets funding for program

The Lake County Area Vocational Center has received State Grant funding to develop a plan to institute a Youth Apprenticeship Program in the Manufacturing sector to begin with the school year 1993-94.

Youth apprenticeship is a program for improving the transition from high school to high skill employment for young people. It is the intent of the Lake County Area Vocational Center/System to plan and develop a youth apprenticeship and work based training plan for the Lake County Area.

In partnership with Lake County Manufacturing Companies and high school districts, the Youth Apprenticeship Program will target eligible high school sophomores who will benefit from this program will provide them with an academic curriculum in the manufacturing area to be conducted at the Lake County Area Vocational Center in conjunction with their home high school. The work period of their junior year in a paid position at a participating company. Their senior year will see school days which are part academic and part apprentice work at the partner company. After successful completing of the Apprentice Program the students will make attractive applicants for full time employment at the company they apprenticed at and work toward journeyman status.

Apprentice programs have been successful in Europe since the time of the guilds and are viewed as a key to German success in the technical field. The Youth Apprenticeship Program should positively affect the lives of the participants and enable companies to train employees to fit the needs of their industry. The end result will be a qualified work force who is trained to the needs of the company which makes us better prepared to compete globally in Workplace 2000.

Award of Merit

Fermilab Director John Peoples, left, presented Antioch resident John Carson, of the Fermilab Technical Support Section, with the Award of Merit for Excellence in Technology Transfer late last month. Carson received the award for his work in transferring superconducting magnet fabrication to the General Dynamics and Westinghouse corporations in preparation for work at the Super Collider Laboratory.

Kemper corporation reports higher first-quarter earnings

Kemper Corporation reported operating earnings from continuing operations of $22.4 million, or $.41 per share, for the quarter ended March 31, compared with $20 million, or $.41 per share, for the same period in 1992, before the cumulative impact of changes in accounting principles in both periods.

"With operating earnings from our asset management business that were consistent without expectations and stronger profitability in the securities brokerage and life insurance operations, we believe that we are on the right course in focusing on Kemper's core businesses to improve operating performance," said David B. Mathis, chairman and chief executive officer of Kemper Corporation.

Net income (including discontinued operations and the cumulative impact of the accounting changes) for the first three months of 1993 totaled $12.3 million, or $.21 per share, compared with $2.1 million, or $.04 per share, in the first quarter of 1992.

Revenue from continuing operations for the first quarter of 1993 totaled $438.8 million, compared with $485.7 million in the same period last year.

Kemper Corporations also announced that it has completed a private placement of convertible preferred stock totaling $230 million. The preferred stock accrues dividends at an annual rate of 5 3/4 percent and is convertible by investors into approximately 4.8 million shares of common stock in the aggregate at a conversion price of $48.36 per share.

Net proceeds of approximately $224.3 million from the placement will be used for general corporate purposes, which may include capital contributions to strengthen the company's continuing operations, continued purchases of certain real estate-related investments from the company's regulated insurance subsidiaries and repayments of short-term debt.

Business Personnel

Kenneth Monroe

Kenneth A. Monroe has been appointed as assistant director of engineering for Victory Memorial Hospital. Monroe's responsibilities at Victory Memorial include managing day-to-day planning operations and maintenance, managing hospital construction and renovation projects, and participating in the planning and implementation of facility upgrades and additions. He received both his bachelors and masters degrees from Northwestern Univ. Before joining Victory Memorial, Monroe worked for St. Francis Hospital of Evanston as a project manager. He currently serves as a member of the Keller Graduate School of Management Faculty; the American Society of Mechanical Engineers; and the American Society of Heating, Refrigeration and Air Conditioning Engineers. Monroe also serves as program co-chairman on the hospital council of the International Facility Management Assn.

Louis Spillone

IMC Fertilizer Group, Inc. has elected Louis Spillone, director of taxes and assistant secretary of the company by IMCF's Board of Directors. Spillone had previously been a senior financial analyst. Spillone joined IMCF in 1988 as a financial analyst, and was promoted to senior financial analyst two years later. Prior to joining the company he was assistant controller at CCC Information Services, Inc., in Chicago. Spillone earned a bachelor of science degree in accounting from the Univ. of Illinois in 1982, and became a certified public accountant later that year. He is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Illinois CPA Society. A resident of Mundelein, Spillone and his wife, Jill, have three children.

Eric Cima

Eric M.A. Cima, is now an independent practitioner with Money Concepts, a full service financial planning centre. Cima has been associated with Money Concepts since March 1992 and has an office in Libertyville where he serves clients in both the north-eastern Illinois and southeast Wisconsin regions.

Clinical Nurse IVs follow one of the three career paths focusing on management, clinical expertise, or a combination of the two. Phillips, who works in Mental Health Services, is pursuing the management path. She joined Victory's staff in 1989.

David Trace

David A. Trace, M.D., acting chairman of the Dept. of Medicine at Univ. of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School, has been appointed associate dean for clinical affairs. He will continue his duties as acting chairman of medicine. Dr. Trace's responsibilities will be to oversee and coordinate clinical affairs, graduate medical education and the overall continuing medical education program. Dr. Trace, who has been an associate professor of medicine at the school since 1989, received his collegiate education at the U.S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, and his M.D. from the Univ. of Vermont. A native of Rochester, N.H., Dr. Trace is married and he and his wife and three children live in Lake Forest.

Jeanne Phillips

Jeanne Phillips, R.N. of Lake Villa, has been promoted to Clinical Nurse Level IV of Victory Memorial Hospital. The Clinical Ladders Program at Victory Hospital is designed to promote excellence in nursing care and professional growth.

Paul Hertel

Paul Hertel of Grayslake, was honored for having no vehicular accidents or lost time injuries for the years 1987 to 1992 for the Illinois Dept. of Transportation. This achievement is especially notable since his work involves highway maintenance activities which afford consistent exposure to traffic, and inclement weather.

ON DEDUCTING POINTS

When you take out a new real estate loan for the purchase or refinancing of a home, there will usually be points to be paid. One point equals one percent of the amount of the loan. Can you deduct this amount from your current taxable income? It all depends.

If the loan is for the purchase of a new home, the dollar amount of the points is fully deductible in the year you paid it. However, if the loan is for the refinancing of a present mortgage, the points are not currently deductible. Instead, they must be written off over the life of the mortgage.

For example, if you refinance a mortgage for $100,000 for 15 years and pay two points ($2,000), you can deduct 1/15th of the amount paid for points each year - $133.33.

There is one condition where you can refinance your home and deduct the amount paid for points in the current year: that is if the mortgage proceeds are to be used for home improvements.

If there is anything I can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at RE/MAX HERITAGE, 4641 Grand Avenue, Gurnee. Phone: 336-2600. I'm here to help!

Stacey Gilbertson

Stacey Gilbertson, R.N., of Salem, Wis., has been promoted to Clinical Nurse Level IV at Victory Memorial Hospital. The Clinical Ladders Program at Victory Hospital is designed to promote excellence in nursing care and professional growth. Clinical Nurse IVs follow one of three career paths focusing on management, clinical expertise, or a combination of the two. Gilbertson, who works in the Surgical Critical Care Unit (SCCU), is pursuing the clinical path. She joined Victory's staff in 1988.

Kathi Kuehnle

Ford Motor Company has appointed Kathi Kuehnle governmental relations manager for its North Central Region based here. The region covers Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Kuehnle had been senior attorney for commercial financing and legislative matters, Ford Motor Credit Co. She joined Ford in 1985 as an attorney with the office of the General Counsel. Previously, she had been an attorney with Keywell and Rosenfeld in Troy, Mich.; and prior to that, an attorney with Clark, Klein and Beaumont, Detroit. She holds a bachelor of arts degree from Northwestern Univ. and a juris doctor law degree from Cornell Univ.

Helpful plan for yard and garden remodeling

Great American gardens and great American landscapes always have one thing in common: a plan. According to the Garden Council, most professionals believe a garden or landscape plan is the single most important gardening tool a homeowner can have.

A plan will assist the homeowner in managing his or her expenditures and will help ensure that the time and money invested in the home landscape is well spent.

And, according to the Garden Council, a well-landscaped home can add anywhere between seven and 14 percent to the selling price of a home.

It stands to reason that those who love their homes, yards and gardens want the quality of what they have to shine through and be enjoyed by family and friends.

The best way—perhaps the only way—to make that kind of quality happen is to plan. The most successful plan is one that's kept flexible.

The home landscape should always be a place of personal expression and the focus of family fun and enjoyment.

A professional plan is usually thought to be out of reach for many homeowners. Such a plan requires a good bit of the landscape architect or designer's time in interviewing the homeowner to assess the needs, the problem areas of the existing yard and garden, and the desired results.

The Garden Council has created the Yard and Garden Remodeling kit. Developed by leading landscape professionals, this interactive kit is comprehensive in its approach and instructs the homeowner on how to complete many of the preliminary tasks necessary for creating a good landscape plan.

The benefit of the kit is that the homeowner now completes the important initial steps, thus saving valuable professional time and dollars while contributing though into the process of what the whole family really wants from their own Great American Garden.

The kit contains five easy-to-follow steps. Once completed, the kit should be returned to a participating garden center or landscape professional, where the final plan will be completed.

Step one is a detailed questionnaire the homeowner is asked to complete. The questionnaire asks the kinds of questions a designer or landscape architect would ask, such as: the homeowner's level of gardening expertise, the activities and uses planned for the garden, and the type of gardening activities most enjoyed by the family.

The second step provides a landscape formula and budget sheet to help homeowners determine how much they should invest in the landscaping process based on their income and home value, in order to obtain the best return on their investment.

Step three defines and identifies the differences between the services of a landscape contractor, landscape architect and landscape designer.

The fourth step examines the financial and time components involved in maintaining the landscape, to ensure the investment grows through the years.

The final step, step five, provides a grid for homeowners to use to prepare an accurate record of their property.

Once the homeowner has followed all the kit instructions, this information is returned to a participating garden center or landscape professional to begin the next step of creating the actual plan and coordinating the installation of the new yard and garden landscape.

The Garden Council's Yard and Garden Remodeling kit is available at participating garden centers. It is also available by sending $1 for return postage to the Garden Council, 500 N. Michigan Ave., Suite 1400, Chicago, IL 60611-3796.

Tips to fight annoying battle against pests

Few things are more annoying than losing a battle against pests in your home. The following tips will help you spot these pests and give you an advantage over the enemy.

If all the termites and all the people in the world were put on opposite sides of a scale, the termites would weigh more than humanity, experts say.

And that means substantial potential for damage. Last year, these wood-eating pests were found in 600,000 homes and damage reached $800 million, according to the National Pest Control Association.

Since termites do their dirty work out of sight, it takes a trained eye to detect an infestation. Subtle signs include termite wings on window sills, tiny mud tunnels on the ground near the house and thin patches of paint on the baseboards where the insects have eaten through the wood.

There are preventive steps you can take to avoid damage to your home:

- Always stack firewood away from the house.
  - Do not allow structural wood for a porch, patio or deck to come in contact with your home's foundation.
  - Replace decorative woods chips with stones.
  - Keep heavily watered gardens away from the house.
  - Check crawl spaces for moisture buildup.
- Your home can be a luxurious resort for the most bothersome pest in the nation, the lowly cockroach.

German cockroaches, for instance, will feast on everything from dirty garbage cans to the glue in a dresser drawer, according to the National Pest Control Association.

American cockroaches, a larger variety often found in older city dwellings, love most leftovers, but will happily make do on book-bindings and paper with starchy sizing.

It's easy to see why cockroaches are consistently picked as the most hated pest, since they spread disease and bacteria rapidly. About eight percent of the U.S. population is allergic to roaches, which have been around an estimated 350 million years.

There are things you can do to control cockroaches:

- Store food in airtight glass or plastic containers.
- Wipe up food spills immediately; keep counters, floors and cabinets clean.
- Vacuum frequently.
- Keep garage cans tightly covered.
- Seal cracks and crevices, caulk openings around pipes, fixtures and cabinetry.

You don't have to see a mouse scurrying across your kitchen floor to know you have an unwanted visitor. Telltale signs of a resident rodent include chewed wires, furniture, books, or food storage containers, or the presence of droppings.

Rats and mice are no small nuisance. They cause from $500 million to $1 billion a year in property losses and health care. They cause structural damage with their burrowing, and spread disease.

More than 45,000 rat bites are reported each year, mostly to children under six years old. In addition, some 20 percent of fires of unknown origin are thought to be caused by rodents gnawing through electrical wiring.

To control rodents, the National Pest Control Association suggests:

- Clear away boxes, lumber, firewood and other debris that might harbor rodents.
- Plug foundation cracks and crevices and openings around pipes entering the house.
- Don't leave food outdoors for your pet.

Peat moss secret is out: Great gardens begin at root level

The secret to beautiful gardens is at root level—in the soil. So don't covet your neighbor's fabulous flowers, stunning shrubs, venerable vegetables and luscious lawns; build the foundation needed for a yard that will rival Eden.

Plant roots require soil that is loamy, neutral, with the capacity for good drainage and full of organic material. Chances are that the plot of earth that's your property doesn't possess all these characteristics.

Do a quick quality check to determine the condition of your soil. Scoop up a handful of dirt and study its texture. If it's thick and lumpy and clings together in a ball, it's heavy clay. Plant roots have a hard time penetrating clay, and they will starve due to lack of air and water.

Luckily, one soil amendment will take over where Mother Nature, or the developers, left off. Canadian Sphagnum Peat Moss improves the texture and performance of all soils, both good and bad. It will aerate clay, bind sand, dramatically reduce the leaching of nutrients and hold up to 20 times its weight in water.

A general rule of thumb is to work a two-inch layer into the top six inches of soil. For year-round soil conditioning, add Canadian Peat Moss to the garden in both the spring, before planting, and in the fall, after harvesting.

The pH level of your garden should also be analyzed so necessary adjustments can be made. The pH, or level of alkalinity or acidity, is measured on a scale of 1 to 14. Seven is neutral; numbers above indicate alkaline soil and numbers below show acidic conditions. Soil amendments and fertilizers may affect the acidity or alkalinity of your planting bed. Canadian Sphagnum Peat Moss is again beneficial because it has a predictable pH level of 3.4 to 4.8.

A soil test will help determine accurately the pH of your soil, but here are regional clues that can also be of help. Acid soils occur throughout the Northeast and in parts of the country that have high humidity and other conditions that leach out calcium and magnesium.

Ground limestone is the antidote. Alkaline soils are more common in the Southwest where rainfall doesn't rob the soil of alkalinizing chemicals. Spread sulfur to increase acidity. Remember lawns, vegetables and most flowers prefer a neutral to slightly acid soil, such as pH 6.0 to 7.0.

Plants require three major nutrients: nitrogen (N), which encourages growth of plant tissues; phosphorus (P), which stimulates cell development, fruiting and disease resistance, and potassium or potash (K), which helps plants form starches and sugars as well as resist disease and drought. Fertilizers are labeled with three-number formulas, such as 5-10-10 or 10-10-10, referring to the percentage of N-P-K within the mix.

An organic product harvested from bogs 7,000 to 12,000 years old, sphagnum peat moss is found in cold, wet climates north of the 45th parallel. Canada, the Russian Federation and Germany are major producers of sphagnum peat moss. Sphagnum moss was one of the first plants to grow on land as the glaciers receded at the end of the Ice Age.

Over the centuries, the perennial sphagnum plants have grown and formed layers. As the layers decompose, the become sphagnum peat moss, an enduring fibrous substance with large cavities that absorb air and water, the way a sponge does.

Harvesting Canadian Sphagnum Peat Moss for horticultural use is an ingenious energy-efficient process. First, the top 1/2 inch of the peat bog is raked and left to dry in the sun. Once dry, it is picked up by large vacuum-like machines. Then, it is screened to remove roots and other debris and pressed in bales.

There are other types of peat moss, such as those formed from the remains of sedge and reed grasses, which are found in more temperate climates. These "peats" are more highly decomposed than Canadian Sphagnum Peat Moss and, therefore, do not last as long. Because Canadian Peat has a stronger structure than other peat products, it has a greater capacity to provide plants with the proper balance of air and water.

There is an alternative to pure Canadian Peat: compost-enriched Canadian Peat Moss. Vegetable peelings, lawn and garden debris and coffee grounds needn't waste away in the city dump. Mixed in a 50-50 ratio with Canadian Peat Moss, compost makes an excellent nutrient that also improves the texture of the soil.

Peat will deodorize the compost and soak up excess moisture which often collects in composting receptacles. Just add a shovelful or two of garden soil or stream-sterilized manure as well as two cups of limestone and blend the ingredients.

Canadian Peat is not just an excellent soil conditioner; it's also a great value for the dollar. Packed in compressed bales that double in volume once opened, long-lasting Canadian Peat stores and release nutrients and moisture to roots slowly, thereby cutting down on the frequency plants need to be watered and fertilized.

At a times of increasing concern about environmental issues, it is comforting to know that this soil conditioner is a completely natural resource. A bale of Canadian Sphagnum Peat Moss is free of insect life, weed seeds, and harmful salts and chemicals. Make sure the bale contains pure sphagnum peat moss by looking for the words "Canadian Sphagnum Peat Moss," the slogan "Healthier Growth, Naturally," and Canada's symbol, the maple leaf.

Pulling unsightly weeds can be a family activity

Having picnics, going to movies, playing Monopoly—these are all activities that are national family pastimes. But what about weeding together? Yes, weeding—pulling those bothersome, unsightly weeds out of the lawn and garden as a family activity.

Though a family may get dirtier weeding the garden than playing Monopoly, there are many benefits, too. First, it's great group exercise—kneeling, lifting, stretching, pulling—and by the end of the season, your family will be in better shape than any other in the neighborhood. Second, it helps the environment when you carefully remove weeds, then prevent them from returning by installing landscape fabric instead of spraying with potentially dangerous chemicals.

Weeds can destroy the serenity of any home lawn. Broadleaf weeds, such as dandelions, pigweed and ragweed, are common lawn invaders and difficult to eradicate. Fortunately, they're easy to pull out by hand and nearly any child can handle the task if an adult demonstrates how to do it correctly.

The best time to pull weeds is when the earth is loose or soft, a day or two after a light rain. Because a weed's roots can grow much longer below ground than its above-ground height, it's important to pull straight up to get as much of the root as possible. It's also important to grasp the weed at the crown, the thick-stemmed area just above the soil surface, to pull out the entire plant.

If a lawn has an abundance of broadleaf weeds, a weed-killing spray can be applied, but only as a last resort. Never apply a herbicide in the presence of children or pets and strictly follow label directions.

Weeds in a flower garden are burdensome but easier to take care of if two or more people work on it together. The first step is to pull all weeds out by hand. The second step is to cover the bed with a landscape fabric. Landscape fabrics permit air and water to travel throughout the fabric to the soil, but block sunlight from weed seeds to keep the area weed-free.

If the plants in the flower bed have yet to be planted, cover the bed with the fabric then cut holes or x's into the fabric with scissors everywhere you intend to put a plant or flower. Cut the holes or x's large enough to insert the plant directly through the fabric and into the soil.

If the flowers have already been planted, cut holes or x's into the fabric that are slightly larger than the plants themselves. Gently pull the fabric over the plants so that the fabric lays flat on the soil surface.

Once the fabric is in place, cover the fabric with gravel, pebbles or wood nuggets.

Weeds in a vegetable garden can attract bothersome insects to food-bearing plants. But it's especially important not to spray weed or insect killers in a vegetable garden as they could taint the vegetables. The simple solution is to gather the family to weed on a regular basis. With several people working at the same time, it won't take long to weed-out every row.

Thought most grasses won't grow in the shade around the bases of shrubs and trees, some weeds seem not to mind. Any family member can remove the weeds by pulling them out by hand, then use a spade to dig up any weed roots remaining below the soil surface.

The next step may require two or more people, depending on the size and shape of the shrub or tree. Place a strip of landscape fabric on the soil in a ring around the trunk securing it with fabric pegs. The inside edge of the fabric is in place, cover it with gravel or wood nuggets and you won't see another weed there for years.

The sweet taste of homegrown carrots

Carrots are a big favorite. Bright-orange carrots with their clean, smooth skin and perfect long tapers are common sights in the grocery store. They're nice enough, but often lack what's most important, a sweet flavor, the kind that's found only in homegrown carrots.

The ones sold in supermarkets are chosen for uniformity, good storage, disease resistance, and other factors that make growing and handling easier. But in home gardens, these things aren't as critical, so seed companies can concentrate on delivering flavor, a sweet, full flavor that makes carrots bought at the grocery store seem bland by comparison.

Your success with carrots really starts when you buy the seeds. Yet, choosing the right carrot isn't always as simple as it seems. A sweet sounding selection described in a catalog may or may not produce a carrot that suits your taste. It's best to try several selections and then decide.

The best suited for heavy soils are short and ball-shaped types. Because they don't grow too deeply into the soil, they adapt well to clay soils. After deciding which types to plant, label them carefully so you can identify them at the end of the season.

Carrots will grow in spring, but fall's cool weather improves their flavor. You can plant seeds now for a fall harvest; in spring, sow seeds about six weeks before the last frost.

Treat the tiny seeds tenderly. The trick is to plant the fragile seeds deep enough so that they won't dry out, yet shallow enough so they can easily break through the soil.

Water daily to keep the seedbed moist; if the seeds dry out even once, they won't come up.

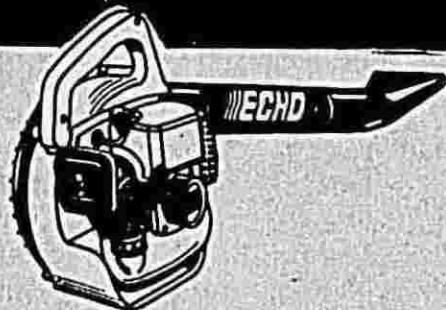

Carrot seeds germinate slowly and sporadically, but all should sprout within three weeks. If you don't see any signs of the seedlings by then, sow again. It's time to thin the seedlings when they are about an inch tall. It's less distributing to their roots if you simply cut off extras at the soil line with small scissors.

Be sure to keep the tiny seedlings weeded because they can't compete with big, faster growing weeds.

You can harvest carrots at any size big enough to eat, but mature roots are the sweetest. Young carrots haven't stored enough sugar in their roots to give them a good flavor; in fact, some may even taste bitter. Fall carrots are especially nice because you can leave them in the ground until you're ready to eat them.

A lovable mutt named Ernie

When you think of a "lovable mutt," Ernie comes to mind. Ernie is part collie, part shepherd, part lab, and part anybody's guess! But mostly, Ernie is lovable.

Ernie is very playful—the kind of dog every kid could love. This two-year-old neutered male walks well on a leash, sits on command, gives paw, and is ever eager to please. Full of affection, Ernie will smother you with wet puppy-dog kisses. Dogs like Ernie become loyal, devoted, lifelong companions. Don't let his hopeful heart wait another day—Ernie has been waiting for "his special person" to find him and take him home, since May 1992. Ernie is in cage 59.

A $55 cash donation includes free spay/neuter, collar, leash, two weeks follow-up, first shots and more.

Orphans of the Storm is located at 2200 Riverwoods Rd. in Deerfield. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., seven days a week. Call 945-0235 for further adoption information.

Summer safety tips from Commonwealth Edison

With the children getting out of school for the summer, it's an ideal time to remind them to "play it safe" and not get hurt by electricity. Youngsters need to be reminded that electricity is very powerful energy that serves us in countless ways, yet it also can cause injury if someone is careless for just a second.

Warm summer days mean children naturally will be spending a lot of time outdoors. They should be told to watch out for places of danger—right in their own neighborhood. Specifically:

- Transmission towers. They carry enough electricity to kill a person and should never be climbed.

- Substations. They reduce large amounts of electricity for distribution to homes. Don't climb over or crawl under fences or gates.

- Utility poles. Do not climb, and keep kites and model planes away.

- Distribution wires. Never shoot or throw anything at wires or equipment on poles.

- Behind large buildings. Electrical equipment that serves homes, apartment buildings, shopping centers or other locations may have wires that could cause a shock.

- Around trains. Railroad tracks should be avoided anyway, but some tracks have a third rail to power electric trains.

- Any area marked "High Voltage."

Youngsters should also be encouraged to stay away from trees and poles during electrical storms because tall objects and wet wood attract lightning. Speaking of trees, children should be alert for hidden power lines if they plan to do any climbing, trimming or fruit picking. It's a good idea for everyone to watch out for overhead wires when carrying ladders, metal pipes or other long objects.

Coast Guard offers course

The United States Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla 09W-06-05 will be providing boating safety information and conducting free Courtesy Marine Examinations for the boating public.

On Saturday and Sunday, May 22 and 23, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Wal-Mart Store, 2019 N. Richmond Rd. (Rte. 31), McHenry.

Information will be available describing safe boating practices and legal requirements.

A free Courtesy Marine Examination (CME) will be conducted on each boat brought in for inspection. The examination will determine if the boat is in compliance with the various safety and legal requirements.

Those boats that are found in compliance will be provided with a United States Coast Guard Auxiliary "Seal of Safety."

Those boats that are not in compliance will be provided with a list showing the items to be corrected, so the owner will know what must be done in order to comply with safety and legal requirements.

For information or questions, call Tom or Mary Nelson at 639-5318.

Extension group changes name

The Lake County Homemakers Extension at the 61st annual meeting, voted to change its name to Lake County Association for Family and Community Education.

The new name is descriptive of the goals—to provide education to enrich our families and community. The mission remains the same even though despite the name change. Education is a way to reach our families and community with current, needed information.

For information, call 526-5063.

Good food, entertainment on menu at Mers Restaurant

For a delicious meal and wonderful atmosphere, Mers Restaurant in Wauconda is the place to be. Located on the shores of beautiful Bangs Lake you can enjoy many of the different nightly specials or just a cool drink on the deck.

All this month Mers is offering an Alaskan King Crab Special. For just $14.95 you can have one pound of the succulent crab legs or two pounds for just $25.95.

There are a huge assortment of seafood dishes to choose from. The all-you-can-eat fish offering on Fridays is just a spectacular deal.

The Sunday Brunch is fabulous. Served from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Chef Kelly will make your omelets to order. Over 10 hot breakfast selections are laid out, along with a pastry table and a salad bar. All this for $8.95 for adults and $5.95 for children 10 and under.

But, Mers Restaurant is not just a seafood place. According to a 1990 North Shore Magazine article, Mers has the best ribs around. Mers is also noted for its prime rib.

On Saturday evenings, stop by to enjoy Karaoke entertainment. The lounge is a great place to eat, drink, and visit.

Or, sit out on the huge deck and have a drink while watching the waves. While on the deck, take the opportunity to explore the new appetizer menu.

Your hosts, Rosemary Mers and son, Bob Mers look forward to seeing you this summer. The restaurant is open every day except Tuesdays. Lunch hours during the week and Saturday are 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Dinner hours are from 4:30 to 10 p.m. The Sunday schedule is 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Mers Restaurant is located at 313 E. Liberty in Wauconda. There are banquet facilities available as well as catering services. For more information call 526-6905.

A whittler's medium, an artist's passion

Perfection lies somewhere outside the woodcrafting work of Robert Lyons. A chef by trade and, at different times during his life, a photojournalist, baker, and children's magician by choice, the Ingleside resident shapes his miniature companions with thoughtful imprecision.

Attentive to imagination, indefinite in detail.

"That's on purpose," Lyons explained, swishing curled shavings and sawdust from a basement workbench. "In my book, perfection's the enemy of creativity. I take an idea, then gouge and whittle and sand until wood and idea match."

In the four years Lyons has practiced his craft, he's fashioned about 20 wood settings, typically in the Old West motif: Gambling cowboys, Plains-toughened mustangs, chuckwagons on the trail, circuit riders on horseback. Most of the figures stand four to six inches tall, expressive and proportioned.

A favorite setting shows a cowboy tempting a stubborn horse, one hand offering an apple, the other resting on a holstered pistol. Roughly hewn and angular, man and animal project humor, indecision, anticipation. Another favorite shows an older man, about middle-age, with wrench and grimace standing before the opened hood of a Model T Ford. Heavy-set with muscular upper arms, "Alonzo" and the Model T is a product of memory for Lyons—Alonzo his father, the Ford, the family car.

by BRYAN MASSEY

"I've wondered," a musing Lyons said, "if dad would know himself."

Lyons began woodcarving when he went to work in 1985 as head chef at Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan. He carved and assembled clocks, sometimes plain-looking ones, sometimes ornate ones. When that work—satisfying though it was—became too tedious he took up carving characters from the Old West, inspired after a vacation in the Southwest.

Lyons once had no time for hobbies. A skilled chef by his teenage years in the 1940s, a working TV and newspaper photojournalist in the 1950s, a bakery owner and traveling entertainer with wife Carol in the 1960s and 1970s, Lyons remembered years in which family and jobs were all-consuming occupations.

Still, he found time for self-expression. He had entrees and desserts to prepare, newsfilm to compose, elegant cakes to fashion, illusions and children's patter to devise. If a busy man, he was also a contented one.

And when Victory Memorial set him into a predictable in by 8, out by 5 work week, Lyons soon put unfamiliar free time to good use. Never an idler, he found in whittling wood a productive, meaningful pastime, a purpose for restless hands and a craftsman's heart.

Sealed with a kiss

Through Aug. 29, Chicago Children's Museum will present its newest exhibit, Sealed with a Kiss: Mail Art, sponsored by the United Parcel Service Foundation.

S.W.A.K.: Mail Art is a highly interactive exhibit of fanciful art that redefines the everyday act of mailing a bill or sending a letter to a friend. Mail Art is art that has been postmarked; it is correspondence designed to please the eye as well as the mind. There are thousands of artists worldwide who create art out of and on spaces as little as a nineteen cent postcard or a letter size envelope—and then send it to someone through the mail.

Design stations in the exhibit will offer paper, paint, rubber stamp images, markers, copy machine art and found objects to all who wish to try their hand at creating their own masterpiece to mail to a special pen pal. In addition, young artist will be able to commemorate important individuals or events in their own lives by designing and then making their own stamps. Also on display in this section will be winning entries from the Illinois Department of Conservation's Junior Duck Stamp Contest.

Chicago Children's Museum is dedicated to the needs and interest of children and their families. Located at 465 E. Illinois Street n North Pier Chicago, 2nd Floor. For more information, call (312) 527-1000.—by RHONDA VINZANT

'Distant Fires'—powerful, timeless

Critics Choice

"Distant Fires," an emotionally stirring play about tensions between the races, is set atop the 10th floor of a high-rise under construction in Maryland in 1968.

Written by Kevin Heelan in 1986, this is a timeless work. And it gets a powerful staging under Gary Griffi's direction by the Pegasus Players at Chicago's O'Rourke Center for the Performing Arts.

The language is earthy and many of the comments are crude, chauvinistic reflections of the time.

And the set is unique. During the two-hour program, the six-man cast pours some realistic-looking cement.

Heelan uses rioting in a black neighborhood as a backdrop to his play. The context brings to mind similar outbursts last year in Los Angeles following the initial Rodney King trial.

Ray Thomson is Thomas, the hard-working, ambitious black crew chief trying out for a unionized bricklayer's position. He finds himself butting against a poorly qualified white contender for the same job (Brian Goodman).

Rioting in a nearby suburb stirs emotions at the site and turns out to be just the wild card to reinforce blind prejudices.

Charles Glenn makes a strong Foos, a broken young man to whom the riot has had a strong personal impact. Similarly, Reginald Metcalfe shines as happy-go-lucky Raymond.

"Distant Fires" runs through June 6. Ticket information is available at (312) 271-2638.—by TOM WITOM

'Dave' uplifting fantasy

Kevin Kline has turned in his share of good dramatic performances, but comedy remains his forte.

We didn't think he could top his comedic coup in "A Fish Called Wanda," but he's even better, playing it a lot straighter in "Dave."

The premise of a lookalike taking over the Presidency of a country is not completely new, but director Ivan Reitman, who has a few funny successes under his belt, "Ghostbusters," "Twins" and "Kindergarten Cop," turns the impostering into the kind of warm and human comedy made popular just before and after WWII.

Dave, an extremely likable regular guy who runs an employment agency, and looks like the incumbent President of the United States, is hired by the Secret Service to wave and cross from a hotel to a limo while the President stays behind for a clandestine meeting.

Dave does it for a lark, but finds himself in a lot deeper when the President suffers a stroke during the meeting that leaves him in a fatal coma.

on Friday mornings from 9 to 11 a.m., Thursday evenings in Vernon Hills from 7 to 9 p.m. and in Zion on Tuesday evenings from 8 to 9 p.m. and Wednesday afternoons from 3 to 4:30 p.m. For further information call 263-7272.

National society colonial dames

The May meeting of the Lac Des Illinois Chapter of the National Society Colonial Dames XVII Century will be at the home of Jodie Holder in Lake Forest on Saturday, May 22 at 1 p.m. Mrs. Otto List will present a program on "Presidents' Wives." To make a reservation as well as receive further information concerning the meeting or membership, call Norma Flude at 358-4143.

Model train display

The Toy Station and The Historic Market Square Merchants Assn. of Lake Forest are sponsoring an outdoor model train display on Saturday, May 22 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Market Square, Lake Forest. The LGB Model Railroad Club of Chicago will set up and operate their large-scale model trains on the lawn of Market Square, opposite the CNW train station. Rain date is June 5. For more information call Norm White at 234-0180.

Press Sec. Frank Langella, who has presidential aspirations, comes up with a conspiracy to keep the President's condition from the press and to have Dave take the President's place just long enough to appoint him vice president after the real Veep, Ben Kingsley, is discredited. Then, viola! Dave takes over.

Two things get in the villain's way: Sigourney Weaver, the first lady, who is the President's wife in name only because of his many sexual indiscretions; and the fact that Dave comes up with some refreshing political ideas that are good for the country.

Like the old film fantasies where a David goes successfully up against Goliath, the good guy is able to accomplish great things despite Washington's political chicanery, "for the people and by the people," winning out over political corruption.

Some of the film's biggest laughs emanate from Dave's accountant buddy, played by Charles Grodin, who keeps saying "we could get into trouble" as he helps Dave straighten out part of the budget.

Director Reitman does a fine job of balancing on the edge between satire and comedy, actually playing ping pong with the two to keep the balance.

"Dave" won't have you doubled up with laughter, but it will keep a warm smile on your face throughout and even for awhile after the show is over.

We'll give it four out of five stars and recommend that you "return with us to those days of yesteryear" when good always triumphs over evil, with this PG-13 film.—by GLORIA DAVIS

O'Hare Airport's People Mover Up And Running

by JIM WARREN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

If you have parked in one of the remote lots at O'Hare anytime during the last year, you may have noticed an elevated track with single train cars marked "test" running between the lots and the terminals. What you saw was O'Hare's new Airport Transit System, or "ATS". Finally, this long awaited system is now in operation.

At 6 a day compared to 16 a day for parking in the main lots, the remote lots are usually my choice. However, prior to the ATS, you would have to take a shuttle bus to get from the remote lots to the terminal, a trip which could run anywhere from 15 to 45 minutes. With the new ATS, the trip from the remote lots to terminal 3 is about 5 minutes. Terminal 2 is 6 minutes and Terminal 1 is 7 minutes.

As you may have noticed from these times, the ATS travels in the opposite direction of airport traffic. Before I explain just where you can get on or off, there have been some changes of which you should be aware.

At the end of May, the new International Terminal will open. It will also be known as Terminal 5. The old International Terminal, which will still service some outgoing charters for awhile, will still be known as Terminal 4.

Now stay with me on this. Remote parking lot C has been renamed lot E. The remote lot on the east side of Mannheim which was called lot E is now lot F. Got that?

O.K., so here's how the ATS works. If you park in remote lot F, you will be bused to the ATS Station in lot E. Even if you park in lot E, you may still want to make use of a bus that will circle the lot to get from your car to the ATS station near the entrance to lot E.

From there the ATS stops first at Terminal 5 (International), then on to Terminal 3. The next stop services Terminal 2 and Terminal 4 (Interim International) as well as the Hilton Hotel. The final stop is Terminal 1 (United).

Remember when you return from your trip the only way to get back to your car in the remote lot is by the ATS. People can still be found waiting for the parking lot shuttle buses which are no longer running.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A family member will be unusually thin-skinned this week, so do tread carefully. Something you say in passing may very well be misinterpreted, causing a huge rift. By week's end, peace will reign once again.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It's a good idea this week to pay close attention to what others are saying. More to the point, examine their motives. It would appear that your best interests are not at heart, so take steps to protect yourself, and all will be well.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Your wallet would appear to have a hole in it this week, as your spending could easily get out of control. Don't let this happen, because those bills will pile up before you know it. Spend a quiet weekend at home.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) While your openness and friendly nature are greatly appreciated in your social life, it's not a good idea to be too familiar at work. Keep your distance, and maintain your professionalism. Higher-ups are watching.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Don't make any hasty decisions this week based on gossip you may have overheard. Think before you act. More importantly, don't give in to anger. Now is the time to be cool and outsmart others with your smoothness.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Money matters require your attention this week, although what you have to say about it may not sit too well with others. Don't let this throw you. You're right on the mark with this. However, do be sure to use tact and patience in discussions.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Partnerships are not highlighted this week, so you do best working alone. This will lead to greater creativity, and ultimately, increased income. All that solitude will have you eager for company this weekend. Enjoy the social scene.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Despite your sometimes volatile temper, this is not the time for you to lecture others about their obvious shortcomings. Instead, be more introspective and look for what's wrong in your own behavior that's causing such reactions. Make an effort to listen more closely.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Temptations are rampant this week, which could cause you to make some very impulsive, unnecessary purchases. It would be a good idea to let someone you trust hold onto your credit cards.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) It's time to tap into your more sensitive side. Family members and romantic interests will respond to this. Abandon that aloof attitude as well, and you'll make great relationships strides this week.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) While you know what you're saying makes sense, others on the job will take offense. You will need to employ a more tactful approach. If you do, you'll find that productivity will be highlighted.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Avoid the tendency to look at everything through rose-colored glasses when it comes to romance. Sometimes, you seem to more immersed in fantasy than reality. Better understanding of your romantic partner will be the result of all this.

prayer to the people in trouble. Stop complaining and start praising those volunteers.

Turn It Off

Why does the Antioch Fire Department have beepers that they do not use? Imagine if all of the other occupations that use beepers needed sirens too! Please turn it off for me and my children.

Let's Do Lunch

I can't believe the Lake Villa School Board. All the employees just got an invitation to a luncheon for the outgoing superintendent. Hey, why don't we all just lay down and let her wipe her feet on us before leaving town? She has left us with a little money, hasn't she? Let's do lunch. Then, next election time we can show the board how happy we taxpayers are with how they spend our money.

A Joke

I am calling from Round Lake Beach and want to say, "Cen-Com, you are a joke!" Many of you should be fired for the embarrassment you have caused. This is terrible. A bunch of communities cannot get together and run an emergency service. Cen-Com should be abolished and the surrounding towns should go back to the old system. Shame on you, board members.

Look It Up

By the way, Webster's Dictionary defines an intercom system as a two way communication system. According to Webster's, what was installed in the Cen-Com console was an eavesdropping device. Look it up.

The Place To Go

If you go to Sandy and Gwens Bar on Diamond Lake Road in Mundelein between 7 p.m. and 12 midnight on Friday and Saturday nights, you will find lots of single men. It does not matter what age you are. That's the place to go. I know four couples who met there and are now married. Try it out!

Good Riddance

Well Lake Villa residents. Don't you mind how our money is being spent on the superintendent? I say good-by and good riddance.

Pity The Animals

To "Get A Leash Stupid". We did not have that article put into the paper for anyone to feel sorry for us. I'd like you to know that my cat, Wally, was in my yard when he was shot. We are not asking for pity for us, just the animals.

No, You're Stupid

Wally's owners were not asking for pity, they are speaking up for animals that cannot speak for themselves. Leash, or no leash, animals should be free to roam on their owners property. You would be singing a different tune if your pets were shot in the head three times, on your own property, with a 22-caliber gun. Stupid!

We Do

In response to the question of whether or not we want to take on the responsibility of unwanted children, there is one answer. Yes.

No Time?

I thought the point of Pro-lifers was to stay away from death. I object to the person who said all Pro-choicers should die. Still, I am very aggravated by your "Nine Month Hassle" note. Do we have to kill millions and millions just because you do not have the time to be pregnant?

Not Your Signs

By the way, "Misdirected Thanks" was wrong! Those signs were just put up by Reclaim the Beach people. Not by the old mayor. Just wanted to let you know.

Kids Are Hard

I am a resident of Gurnee and the Lipservice notes about abortion caught my eye. I am a mother of three. I was Pro-choice prior to having my children and still am!

Carrying a child for nine months is difficult. Raising them is too. It is a full time job that requires commitment. You have to be willing to give it your all! Wake up Pro-lifers.

No Support

I am a Lake Villa school teacher. I can't believe that the school board wants us to come to a luncheon for the interim superintendent. They didn't do anything for an employee who retired after 18 years. I hope there is a poor showing. We haven't supported her the whole time she was here.

No Adults

Listen mother of triplets. I don't care how old they are! Every time I have been by there I have not seen an adult present. And, I live near you. I have to go by that intersection.

Fence Them In

Hey, "Stay On Your Road"! I have a right to drive on any road I choose. I noticed that you fenced in your yard, but put the play area on the outside of the fence. Nice going. You need to watch your children.

Slow Down

The speed limit on Anita Avenue in Antioch is 25 mph. There are children walking to and from the park. If you do not slow down, the police will be called.

Strategy takes shape as base returns to list

Lake County has until early summer to prove its point — Great Lakes Naval Training Center should not be closed. Hours after the federal Base Closure and Realignment Commission allegedly placed Great Lakes on the "hit list" for termination, Lake County Chairman Robert Depke (R-Gurnee) and VOICE co-chairman Ron Weeks called a conference to discuss the possibility of a organization, has never let up on its efforts to fight for Great Lakes, Weeks noted. "We have not slowed in our efforts to fight for the existence of Great Lakes. Even after the base was off the Department of Defense list, we continued to work," Weeks said.

OBITUARIES

Patrick (Pat) Graham Richard (Dick) Graham

Patrick (Pat) Graham, born on September 17, 1927 in Sao Paulo, Brazil died on May 6, 1993 at Sioux City, South Dakota.

Richard (Dick) Graham, born on June 5, 1926 at Sao Paulo, Brazil died on January 8, 1993 at Waukegan, IL.

Patrick and Richard Graham were the sons of the late John and Hazel Graham, longtime Long Lake and west Lake County residents. Patrick was a heavy equipment operator and a longtime member of the Union of Operating Engineers, and was a former member of the Sun Ray Hills Club and the Fox Lake Moose Lodge. Richard was a longtime bricklayer and was self employed in the Lake County areas for many years. Both brothers served in the military during World War II.

Patrick Graham is survived by his wife Barbara Graham of South Dakota and two daughters, Susan Graham of Evanston and Cindy Pahl of Sioux Falls, South Dakota; three grandsons Patrick A. Graham, T.J. McCauley, Jason McCauley; two granddaughters Tracey McCauley and Jill McCauley; other relatives survive.

Friends and neighbors are invited to attend a memorial service for Patrick and Richard Graham at 11:00 A.M. Saturday, May 22, 1993 at the K.K. Hamsher Funeral Home, 12 N. Pistakee Lake Rd., Fox Lake (in the Chapel on the Lake). Private interment will follow the memorial service. For information, please call (708) 587-2100.

Sally Eleanor Holvay

Age 70, of Morrisville, NC died Monday. She lived in Lake Villa, Illinois from 1952 to 1989 and was a secretary at the College of Lake County in Grayslake, IL. Funeral service will be held 2:00 p.m. Thursday, White Plains United Methodist Church, Cary, NC. Burial in Raleigh Memorial Park, NC.

Surviving: Emery J. Holvay, husband of the home; daughter, Kathy West of Cary; son, Emery C. Holvay of Royal Palm Beach, FL; sister, Nina McKissock, of Panama City, FL; grandchildren, Jeffrey West and Jason West, both of Cary; Rachel Holvay and Andrew Holvay, both of Royal Palm Beach, FL; great-granddaughter, Hollyann West of Cary.

The family will receive friends at Brown-Wynne Funeral Home in Cary, NC 7-9:00 p.m. Wednesday. In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made to White Plains UMC, P.O. Box 158, Cary, NC 27511.

Joan M. Maurer

Age 55 of Round Lake Park, IL passed away on Monday, May 17, 1993 at her home. She was born November 30, 1937 in Waukegan, IL, the daughter of Arthur J. & her natural mother, Ruby (Landwehr) Bucher. On March 12, 1977 in Crystal Lake, IL she married Harry E. Maurer. She had been employed for 35 years as a teacher in elementary education for both the Round Lake School District and the Wauconda School District #118. She was a member of St. Paul's United Church of Christ in Crystal Lake, IL; a member of Wauconda Education Association; a member of the Illinois Education Association; a member of the National Education Association; an active member in the Lake County Fair Association; and a 4-H leader in Lake County for the Volo Busy Bees for over 25 years.

Her survivors include her husband Harry E. Maurer of Round Lake Park, IL; her mother Frances Bucher of Crystal Lake, IL; three sisters Janet (John) Schryver of Marengo, IL, Jean (George) Lubovich of Lansing, IL, and Lois Bucher of Crystal Lake, IL; niece and nephew Katie and Nicholas Lubovich of Lansing, IL; and niece Mary Kearney of Marengo, IL. She was preceded in death by her father Arthur and her natural mother Ruby.

Visitation was held on Wednesday, May 19, 1993 from 4 - 9 p.m. at the Querhammer Funeral Home in Crystal Lake and after 10 a.m. Thursday until the time of service at 11 a.m. at St. Paul's United Church of Christ in Crystal Lake, where Rev. David J. Strang officiated. Memorials are requested in her name to St. Paul's United Church of Christ Memorial Fund.

Donald J. Johnson

Age 68, of Grayslake, IL passed away Tuesday, May 11, 1993 at Condell Medical Center, Libertyville, IL following a sudden illness. He was born in Chicago, IL August 21, 1924 and had made his home at Grayslake over 38 years. He was a member of St. Gilbert Catholic Church, Grayslake, IL and was a veteran of World War II serving with the U.S. Army. He had been employed as Records Retention Supervisor with I.M.C., Mundelein, IL plant.

He leaves his wife Alida nee Straszynski; three daughters Arlene (Randy) Selig of Gilbert, AZ, Linda (Warren) Kostock of Fox Lake, IL, and Barbara (Norman) Marcum of Lowell, IN; three grandchildren Michelle Lowry, Karin Corder, and Eric Kostock, two sisters and four brothers, none from this area.

Mass of the Resurrection was offered at 10 AM on Friday, May 14, 1993 at St. Gilbert Church, Grayslake, IL with the Rev. Robert Beaven, Pastor officiating. Interment followed at Ascension Cemetery, Libertyville, IL. Friends of the family visited Strang Funeral Chapel, 410 E. Belvidere Road, Grayslake, IL from 6 to 9 PM Thursday.

Gordon E. Sergeant

Age 80, a resident of Boynton Beach, Fla. for the past eight years and former longtime Spring Grove, IL resident died December 23, 1992 in Oakland Park, Florida. He was born in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada on June 13, 1912. Mr. Sergeant received his B.S. degree from the Armour Institute of Technology, his M.S. from Northwestern University as well as having attended the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. During the 1930's he was employed by Graham, Anderson, Probst and White of Chicago, as a draftsman. He also worked for various companies as a safety engineer, construction engineer, industrial and management as well as resident engineer.

He married Marquerite Agnes Grieshaber on June 6, 1936 and had celebrated 45 years of married life before her death on June 17, 1981. During World War II Mr. Sergeant worked in secret on a part of the Norden Bomb Sight and on the Turret Gun. He owned and served as President of the Meneris Floor Tile and Novelties Manufacturing Company in Chicago, IL and later served as the President for the G.E. Sergeant Engineering Consultant Firm. Mr. Sergeant was a member of the Industrial Management Society, the Premium Industries Club, the Lake Shore Club, and was a Registered Professional Engineer. He was listed in the "Who's Who in Chicago and Illinois" during the 1940's. In addition to Mr. Sergeant's other accomplishments, he did extensive lecturing and taught the Dale Carnegie Courses to Business Executives. He designed shopping centers, subdivisions, and roadways with the county. He was a "Golden Gloves" boxer, enjoyed tennis, but his main hobby was "work". He helped to develop the railroad town in Union, IL and served on a board in assistance to the poor. After moving to Florida, Mr. Sergeant joined the Graftek Press as a consulting engineer, where he was employed until his death in December, 1992.

Survivors include his sister-in-law Dorothy G. Wyatt of Lake Worth, Fla; his brother-in-law Edward L. (Irene) Grieshaber of Massachusetts; his aunt Agnes (Logan) Schimbke of Milwaukee, Wis. He was preceded in death by his wife Marquerite Agnes Sergeant (nee) Grieshaber on June 17, 1981. Memorial services will be conducted Thursday, May 27th, at 2:00 P.M. at the K.K. Hamsher Funeral Home, 12 N. Pistakee Lake Rd., Fox Lake, IL (The Chapel On The Lake). Friends of the family may call from 1:30 P.M. until time of services. For information, call (708) 587-2100. No flowers, please.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I am currently finishing my third year of college and due to get out at the end of May. I am one of many, I am sure, who will need to work this summer to finish my final year of college. I am trying to seek employment for the summer either on a full or part time basis. How do you feel I should go about this task? I attend school out of state so for me to run up expensive telephone calls and countless letters may not prove effective. What approach can you suggest? J.D. - Libertyville

A: Dear J.D. Judging by the date of your letter (May 10), I felt I should address this situation in this week's column. For college students aiming for employment over the summer months, my advice is to start early. For example, the months of February and March are ideal for landing summer jobs. If you plan to work over the summer...you should begin your search as early as possible. If you are responsible and take your work seriously, keep in mind that corporations and local companies, around those months, have already begun to prepare for offering college internships as well. I recommend college internships for the summer breaks, because it can allow you to earn and learn. Did you know there are many companies, such as ours, who will allow a college student to earn college credits while working to gain experience needed in their field? For instance, an accounting major may be able to find a position within a corporation where they may be auditing, or calculating inventories. A business major may find themselves working in an administrative assistant type of position and a journalism major...writing copy or layout for a local newspaper. Be resourceful. Some colleges require you to pay for the college credits, however, if you are able to fulfill your schools requirements, you can not only end up with the college credit, but money in your pockets as well. (NOTE: Only pay for college credits if you need them.) Requirements for these internships differ. Some require a paper at the end of the internship or a daily journal, some require a portfolio of samples of accomplishments and others require letters of recommendation from various department heads that you come in contact with while employed. All colleges and universities that I have come in contact with do however, require the internship be related to the major the student is enrolled in. Find out who to contact in your school regarding internships. Understand that there may only be a handful of internships which have been offered to your school, but that doesn't mean that you cannot do well on your own. Again, be resourceful, speak with anyone you know who may get you the name of a person of authority in a company...make the call yourself! Good Luck!

DON'T SHAMPOO, DRYCLEAN OR STEAM YOUR CARPET!

Until You Call Chem-Dry® Of Lake County

These carpet cleaning services may remove surface dirt but they leave soap or chemical residue that will quickly attract even more dirt. Unfortunately, most carpet cleaning methods also use water which soaks into the carpet backing and pad causing deterioration and leaves the carpet wet for days. CHEM-DRY® OF LAKE COUNTY uses a patented carbonated mist to loosen dirt and buffing action to deep clean your carpet. Carpets are clean as new and will stay clean longer. It's fast, it's clean, and most carpets are dry in an hour. We can tackle the toughest stains, red stains, rust stains, pet stains and odors.

Where To Worship

Mundelein

Faith Lutheran Church, 1966 Hawley St., Mundelein, held a special offering of letters on May 2. Members of the church wrote letters to Senators Simon and Brown and Representatives Porter and Crane urging them to support the "Many Neighbors, One Earth" legislation that would make reducing hunger and poverty in environmentally sound ways the leading purpose of foreign aid. Currently, the U.S. Government spends $15 billion, less than one percent of its total budget, on foreign aid. Over half of that goes to military and security aid. Less than one-quarter goes to programs directly focused on reducing hunger and poverty or protecting the environment. The "Many Neighbors, One Earth" legislation calls for increases to programs that have been effective in helping hungry people become self-reliant and in protecting the environment around them. The bill calls for no new foreign aid money. It would instead reprioritize how current funds are spent now that the Cold War is over. Faith Lutheran Church is part of a national offering of letters campaign led by Bread of the World, a Christian citizens movement dedicated to ending hunger. During an offering of letters, people combine their gifts of faith and citizenship to write Congress on legislation that affects hungry people.

Millburn

Memorial Day services will be held on May 31 at 2 p.m. in the small park at the west end of Millburn Cemetery. The services are sponsored by Historic Millburn Community Assn. There will be a short program, followed by a walk through the cemetery when flowers will be placed on Veteran's graves. Refreshments will be served after the program. Call 362-7567 for further information.

Libertyville

The United Methodist Church of Libertyville, 429 Brainerd Ave., will hold Sunday morning services at 8:45 and 11 a.m. Children's Sunday School begins 15 minutes after the beginning of each service. A "Celebration Time" for children, youth and adult classes begins at 10 a.m. Youth Groups meet on Sunday evenings with the Jr. High starting at 4 p.m. and the Sr. High at 6:30 p.m. On Sunday, May 23 a sermon entitled "Promise" will be delivered by Pastor Jim Scorgie. Call 362-2112 for further information.

Wildwood

The Wildwood Presbyterian Church, 33428 N. Sears Blvd., in Wildwood, will receive new members during its 10 a.m. worship service on Sunday, May 23. Child care is provided. A coffee social will follow the service. Sunday School for all ages begins at 9 a.m. "WildFaith," the youth fellowships for junior and senior highs, is held from 5 to 7 p.m. MOMS, a fellowship group for mothers, meets Tuesday morning at 9:30 a.m. Child care is provided. Newcomers are welcome. Call 223-0073 for further information.

Mustang muscle takes title

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

It was a time when basketball was still dominating the headlines.

"We went way away from everything we had set out to do," Mundelein Coach Doug Foerch said. "If everyone went above what we could possibly get, that is very unusual to do."

Paced by senior Jon Wasik's three championships, the Mustangs regained the state's top honors with 162 points. The Mustangs knew they had the trophy locked up in the first night of competition at Forest View Educational Center.

Jamie Lolzeaux came through on vault in an event the Mustangs needed a good effort.

"The kids came through," Foerch said. Wasik, a senior, capped off his high school career by earning a 9.4 in the still rings, 9.4 in the parallel bars and 9.6 on the vault.

"There was a lot of noise during the dismount and we had a lot of fans here," Wasik said of the pommel horse.

Foerch and Wasik were both honored by state gymnastics organizations, as coach and gymnast of the year, respectively.

Some 20 years from now, gymnasts at Mundelein will be striving to be as good as those in the T.J. Dortch-Jon Wasik era.

"When I was a freshman, it was Dortch and the varsity team who kept me going," Wasik said.

Wasik is headed to the University of Illinois, where he will be teamed with rival Chris Wedig. Libertyville's Wedig had a good meet for himself, finishing third in the vault with a 9.2.

"We have been friends since I have been doing the vault and the floor exercise," Wedig said.

Libertyville finished third as a team with 152.40 points. Naperville North was second.

Libertyville Sophomore Mike Mirabelli tied Wasik for fourth in the high bar, was seventh in the pommel horse and eighth in the parallel bars. Wildcat Luke Starr was seventh in the vaulting.

Foerch pointed to several of the team members whose last name is not Wasik as keys to this year's state title.

"Nobody heard of Ray Gradecki before this year because he was not good enough to make the all-around. Nobody heard of Andy Baade until this year, either," Foerch said.

Gradecki earned a second in the still rings and seventh in the floor exercise.

Mike Rauschenberger will be looking to carry on the tradition next year. He finished third in the still rings behind his older teammates with a 9.2.

"I was not here last year because I broke a leg. I worked on getting my strength back and all the work paid off. This was my best routine of the year. Not only physically, but emotionally," Rauschenberger said.

The juniors are hoping to continue next year, although nay-sayers are speculating it may be Libertyville with the best team.

"It feels great. Hopefully we can get back here. Our juniors scored 141 points in a meet," junior Tim Akins said.

"I say 'can we get third' — maybe," Foerch said.

During the meet, a couple of opposing gymnasts said they were tired of hearing about Wasik and the Mustangs.

Wildcats wave in NSC track title

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The wave made its appearance at a track and field meet Saturday.

A group of Libertyville High School track and field team members gathered along the final turn, giving the baseball like wave to each of the LHS contestants in the 1,600-meter run.

The Wildcat group of Kevin McCauley, Mike Crane, Kyun Huh and Nate Westin won the event in 3:34, topping Antioch.

James Duncan watched along the sidelines, his day over after winning the 100-meter dash in a NSC meet record 10.4 and the 200.

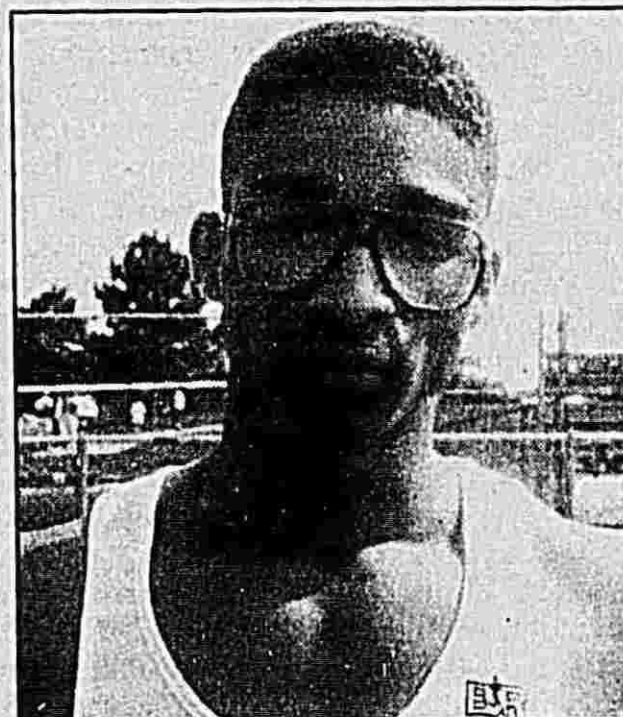

The conference title over Zion-Benton, 137-119 points, was especially pleasing, since the Wildcats lost the crown to the Zee-Bees last year.

"I feel pretty good. The team has really improved a lot. I feel stronger about the 100," Duncan said.

The Wildcats will be at the Stevenson sectional May 21, shooting for bids to the state meet at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston.

"Those are the kind of points you need to win the conference," LHS Coach Ron Long said. "Our first goal was to win conference. Now we will begin to think about next week and try to get as many kids downstate."

Long was celebrating his 40th birthday two days late with the title.

Jim Duncan

Libertyville won the 3,200-meter relay with Mike Schneiders, Mike Crane, Jeff Zemaitis and Joe Wahler had a time of 8:22, topping Antioch by a hare. Crane was a different anchor, as Westin was allowed to concentrate his energies on the 800.

Other champs for the Wildcats included Dave Kelton in the 110-meter high hurdles; Westin in the 800; Chris Brown edging Tony Riggelstein of Mundelein in the 1,600 and the 1,600 meter relay.

Antioch Coach Norm Hahn said he was pleased with his team's third place finish of 99.5 points.

Rounding out the meet team totals were Stevenson (68), Lake Forest (58), Lake Forest (54), Warren (48), Fenton (40.5), North Chicago (23) and Mundelein (11). The meet did not change the final team standings.

Stevenson's Pat Joyce regained his form in the 3,200-meter run, beating out two Libertyville runners including Chris Brown with a 9:14.

Dave Remter of Antioch had quite a day for himself, winning both the shot put and the discus.

"Remter did real well, although his distance was not as good in the discus because of the wind," Hahn said.

Chris Bracey, a sophomore, won the 300 intermediate hurdles. "He injured his ankle but just gutted it out," Hahn said.

Also overcoming adversity was Warren's Sean McGruder. McGruder and Aaron Bell of Antioch battled it out before McGruder won at 6-feet, 4 inches.

"That is great for him considering he did not even high jump last year due to injury," Warren Coach Ron Taulu said.

Antioch's Doug Gooch finished third in the long jump at 21-6 3/4, but that broke a 20-year school record.

Hurdles not just on track for 'Hawks

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

North Chicago Community High School's boys track and field team may not have been a factor in the North Suburban Conference meet Saturday at Mundelein, but Coach Rodney Hampton and assistant Coach Tony Harris have plans to change all that.

North Chicago had 21 points for eighth place.

Like everything else at North Chicago, the track and field coaching situation is a unique one as neither the head nor the assistant coach have full-time teaching jobs there.

Harris is a volunteer assistant. He met Hampton during their connections through work at Abbott Laboratories.

"Abbott has a project

Overtime

"I went to a meeting and one of the members said a project would be to volunteer coaching at North Chicago High School. I started out by developing strength and conditioning programs for all the kids. I work with the sprinters now and we have some tough sprinters at the frosh-soph level," Harris said.

Hampton is unique in Lake County as he is one of few to have tried to be the head coach in three of four boys sports: football, wrestling and track and field.

"It is so easy for them (teachers) to ridicule what is there rather than try to help. Anybody can coach a good athlete. But when it comes time to help some of those kids that are borderline, help them to get off the street, no one wants to help. They say 'he's no good'. He can't do that. Rather than say, 'he's a border-line kid, let's get him out of the gang, get him off the street, do something so he can participate."

"But they don't do that there. The only thing want to do is ridicule," Hampton said. "If the teachers aren't helping to work with some of the border line kids, then they don't need to be out there. They need to be in a system where everything is perfect already."

Harris has worked with the Better Boys Foundation for nine years, a group which receives funds from National Football League.

"Sports are really important. It is the ultimate outlet for all their frustration. For me, athletics was something I could relax and enjoy," Harris said.

Harris played football, basketball and football for Manley High in Chicago.

Harris plans to return to the sidelines in August when the Warhawks get ready for another campaign on the gridiron.

The Warhawks are shooting for bids to the state meet at Eastern Illinois University May 27 and 28 at this weekend's sectional.

Then it will be time for some well-deserved R&R for both.

'Hawks prepare at beach; Warren 6th

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

If it worked for Walter Payton, may be it will work in Mundelein.

North Chicago community High School sophomore Dorsey Christians finished third in the 110 meter high hurdles, behind Dave Kelton of Libertyville and Andy Grignon of Lake Forest.

"The big key was running the beach at Foss Park. There is a hill with about a 45 degree angle to it. The team ran three 220s, four 100 yard dashes, four 50s and two 40s," North Chicago Coach Rodney Hampton said. "This was the first time we have been down in the sands, but I think it is a good workout; an extremely tough workout."

The end result was nineteenth of a second being lopped off Christians' best, to 15.0. Kelton and Grignon were at 15.7.

North Chicago had 22 points, good enough to stay out of the cellar. Libertyville won the meet and the NSC title.

Warren finished in sixth place in both the tourney and the conference standings with 40 points.

Artysu Lartey just got beat by a nose for second place in the 100. He lost to James Duncan of Libertyville.

Sean McGruder beat Aaron Bell of Antioch in a battle at 6-4 to win the high jump.

"I think the track program next year for North Chicago will be it," Hampton said.

The 800 meter relay team finished third. Cyrus Johnson, Cyus Swopes, Shun Glass, Tyler Edmonds make up the team which was fourth in the 800 meters.

Vince Jackson was sixth in the 400 meter dash.

Senior leadership produces team title for Panther boys

Round Lake boys track and field Coach Kevin Dempsey had good reason to be optimistic when this season started.

"We knew going in we were going to be a senior dominated team with a lot of talent. We had to stay healthy. We lost Rusty Nofsinger early, and Chris Young and Ed Edison for a while, but the younger kids followed through," Dempsey said.

The hard work resulted in a perfect 5-0 dual meet season and winning the Northwest Suburban Conference title.

The Panthers topped second-place Johnsburg 144-136 at the conference meet. Grayslake was third.

"We told the kids to place in conference and that is exactly what the kids did," Dempsey said.

The Panthers are a versatile bunch, competing in up to four events. That will be narrowed to one or two at the Stevenson sectional May 21.

The conference crown was Round Lake's second in three years. Grant won last year.

Kelly Walker won the triple jump and Bob

Swanson won the 110 meter high hurdles and long jump. The 1,600 meter relay team finished second while the 400 and 800 meter squads won.

The 400 saw Jason Morris, Henry Gibson, Dan Stefanowski and Justin Zdeb win. the 800 was undefeated in conference. Zdeb stepped in along with Edison, Young and Morris. Zdeb had won the pole vault with an 11-6.

"We have a lot of players who have been with us for four years and that should help at Stevenson," Dempsey said.

Parker, Skyhawks soar to second NWSC crown

A little aggressive base running coupled with yet another strong outing from pitching ace Katie Parker not only led the Johnsburg girls softball team to its second straight Northwest Suburban Conference title, but Coach Jim Meyers may be looking at buying fins soon.

"I promised the girls that if they won conference, I would jump into the retention pond behind school. I'll do it for them if they win regionals, too. I can backstroke," Meyers said.

deficit.

"Katie really did a good job of mixing her pitches up. Round Lake's pitcher (Shannon) pitched a good game, too," Meyers said. "I was concerned about her strength for the Round Lake game, but that made tougher." Parker had won both the Marian Central and Grayslake victories to set up going for the title.

Parker struck out four and walked only one Panther.

Johnsburg scored its seven runs on just two hits. The team scored all runs in the first two innings.

Lori Hurckes was two-for-three. Her single up the middle in the first gave the Skyhawks the lead. In the second, she scored as Johnsburg executed a double steal.

"We practice it a lot. The intent is not to score two runs, but to get runners to second and third base," Meyers said.

Johnsburg clubbed Grayslake 21-9. Amanda DeVoy had six RBIs; Parker was two-for-two with three RBIs and Karen Stilling had three hits.

The Skyhawks were without their regular catcher, so frosh Chris Marciniak stepped in. "She made a nice play on a bunt," Meyers said.

The Skyhawks closed the regular season with a battle at Grant May 20.

Kotty's, Coleman's efforts boost tracksters to state

Chandra Kotty has something in common with hundreds of athletes at the girls state track and field meet finals this weekend at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston.

"I would like to do well and finish in the top five in both," Kotty said.

Kotty was sporting a wide grin as she spoke following winning both the discus and the shot put at the Grayslake sectional.

Libertyville finished third to pace area teams in a meet easily won by Barrington with 102 points. Dundee-Crown won the battle for second.

Kotty's 41-2 effort in the shot put was six inches better than second-place Jan Setlik of Barrington. Kotty's second throw was her best.

"It was a great effort from her. She is throwing well and with a lot more confidence this year. Coach Gerald Mateja has been working with her a lot," Mundelein Coach Art Campbell said.

Kotty's effort in the discus was 126-3, setting a new Mundelein school record. The second-place finisher was some eight inches shorter.

Becky Coleman and Amy Marts of Barrington had another struggle to the finish. This time, it would be Coleman winning with a dramatic lunge. Both had times of 5:14.9.

"For four years, Marts had been able to outkick her, but Becky is starting to learn to run the race better," Libertyville Coach Jim Seward said.

Coleman was second in the 3,200 meter run to Wendy Wilton of Barrington.

Thompson peaks at the right time

Dana Thompson may have been satisfied with a five-foot two inch effort in the high jump last year.

But that was last year.

This year, she has jumped 5-6 and will be looking to do just that in her next effort at the state meet at Eastern Illinois University.

"She has good possibility of placing in both events. I hope she places at state," Antioch Coach Syd Klocke said.

Thompson's 5-2 effort topped a Cary-Grove girl's attempt by one inch. In the long jump, she had an effort of 17 feet, 2 3-4 inches, four inches off the first-place finisher.

"In the high jump, I have been working to keep my head up and in the long jump, working to keep my legs straight," Thompson said.

Thompson's track and field career began when she started in the long jump as an eighth-grader. Now, she is on her way to Charleston.

"I'm just happy to get there, I don't know where I will place," she said.

Also earning a medal for Antioch with a fifth-place finish was the 800 meter relay team of Chrissy Hammer, Rheanna Steinburg,

Dana Thompson

Thompson and Beth Lennon.

Warren had a rough time of it in the Grayslake sectional, scoring just two points. Most of the Blue Devils team was dancing the night away at prom.

Zita Holeczy made the finals in the shot put. "She has been pretty consistent. She is one of the athletes who has been here for four years," Warren Coach Julie Cadieux said. Holeczy is more know for her tennis.

Grayslake netters stand tall with first-ever league title

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The matches were not quite over at Grayslake Community High School Friday.

But Grayslake High tennis coach Paul Keller was grinning as the team totals were being added up.

"We have had more talented players here in the past, but the key this year has been the balance. For the first time, we had three championship participants. Two firsts, a second and a third is not bad," Keller said.

Now, Grayslake High is making room to balance another trophy in its trophy case as the Rams won the Northwest Suburban Conference boys tennis championship. Grayslake won the tourney it hosted for 10 points and, counting duals, 17 points. Wauconda had 15 overall points, Johnsbury 14, Round Lake seven and Marian Central zero.

The school's first tennis crown for its only tennis coach was meaningful for the two singles players who won titles.

Senior John Wolfe and Con O'Donnell both won big singles titles to bask in the glory.

For Wolfe, a win earlier jade up for having his unbeaten conference string snapped.

"I was able to change my hitting style from a slice to a top-spin," O'Donnell said.

"The loss to Garrett Thiel of Wauconda made me really mad, because I wanted an undefeated conference season," Wolfe said.

"John improved tremendously over last year. Con has come into his own. Con is our steadiest player," Keller said.

The year started when a key player moved out of the area. Jeremy Higgins was the defending third singles champ. That left the Rams with seven players.

"When I looked at what we had coming back, I felt this was the best chance in the conference of coming in first place," Keller said.

O'Donnell finished 12-0 in duals and he and the rest of the Rams are hoping to continue at the same level, if not better, when the McHenry sectional is on tap May 21.

"I think we have a good sectional," Keller said.

The only Grayslake player to make it to state was Jeremy Kaschamar in 1990.

The second doubles team made it to the finals before falling to Johnsbury. The Rams' Dave Gardiner and Paul Roeck lost to Brandon Gough and Eric Baur.

Johnsbury improved from 2-13 a year ago.

"What I teach my doubles teams to do is be more aggressive - to split, stop and volley and put pressure on the other team and force them to play better tennis. If we can volley well, they will have to have a lot of tough shots to beat us. I was really proud to see how our seniors played," Johnsbury Coach Rick Bailey said.

The first doubles team of Bauer and Al

Struck down Jody Burr and Zack Spaetz 6-4, 6-4. Bauer was recovering from a knee injury and Struck is in his first year in tennis. "Once those guys got going, they really improved," Bailey said.

The second doubles team of Brandon Gough and Jess Waldeck downed Dave Gardiner and Paul Roeck of the Rams for the title.

Round Lake's highlight was Dean Thomas making it to finals at number one singles in his senior year. He fell to Wolfe 6-3, 6-2.

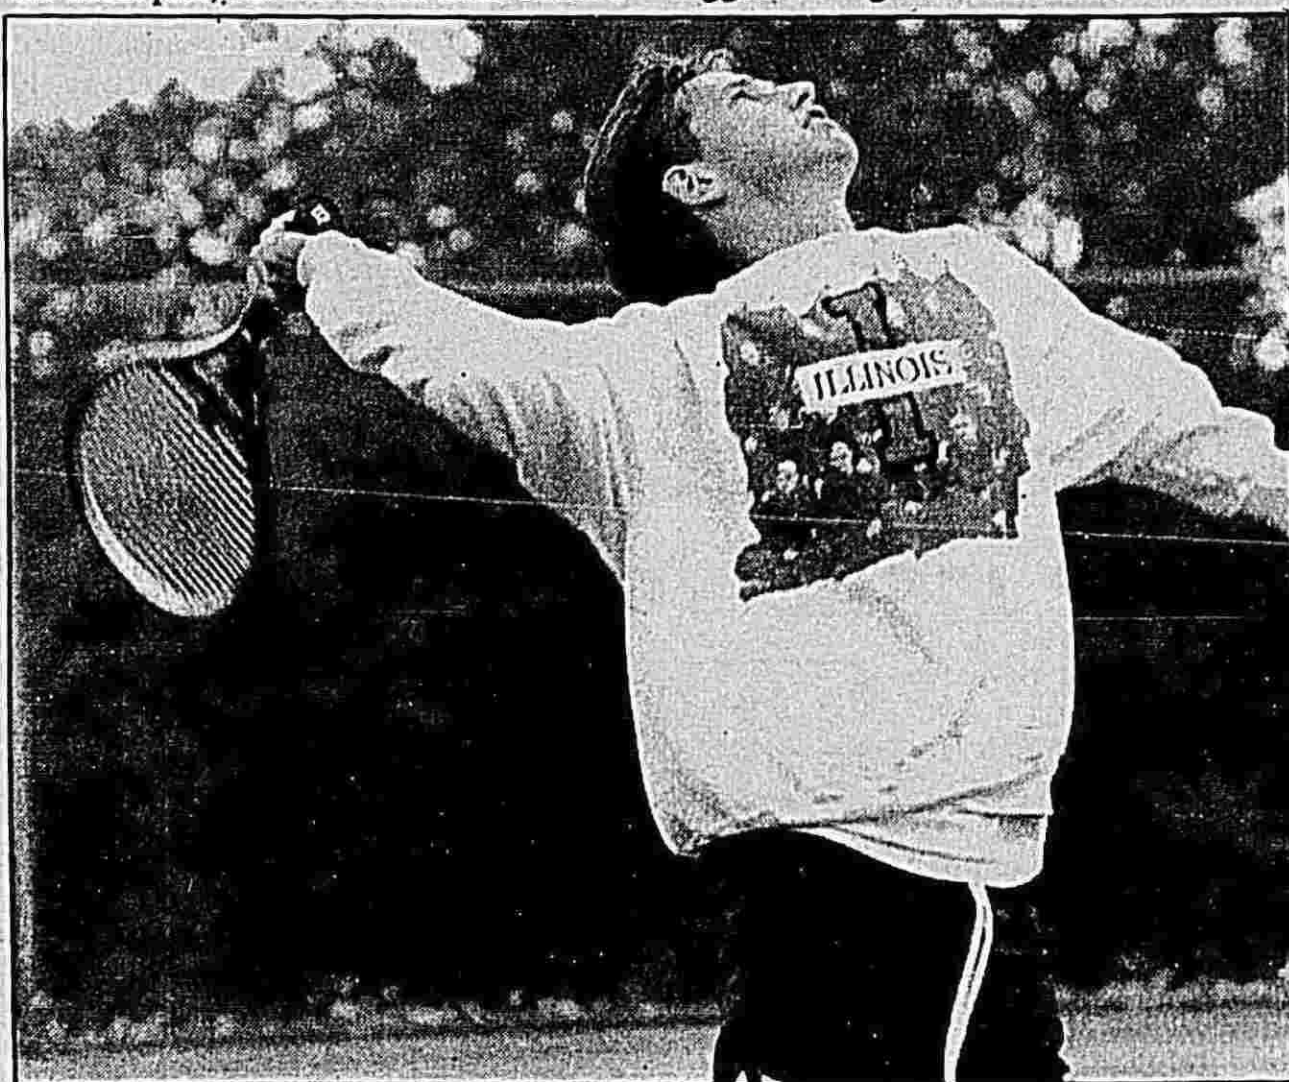

Wauconda was in the team title hunt for the most part, but fell short. Sean Balke's third-place finish in third singles was the best effort.

Grant has his eyes set on the future. Frank Cittidano returned to the Grant tennis sidelines and saw a 1-9 dual meet team finish fourth at the tourney.

"The kids have really improved this year. In duals, we lost seven matches by 3-2 scores. Joe Russo fell to Garrett Terschell of Wauconda at first singles. Toby Merrill, a sophomore, won the consolation title at third singles, with a 6-4, 7-6 win.

But in the end, it was the Rams with the biggest feeling of satisfaction.

Keller relishes championship

Maybe, as he was watching Con O'Donnell put a winning ground stroke home for a point, or John Wolfe execute a perfect serve, he thought about his days in Oshkosh, Wis.

He was using different equipment, but Keller's results were worth memories. He was undefeated in singles play at Oshkosh.

"There is a lot more serve and volley now than in my day. In my day, there was more baseline play," Keller said.

Keller, a member of Oshkosh's hall-of-fame, has seen many an equipment change. "We have gone from wood rackets to steel ones. "Everything is based on power.

Keller is a registered tennis teaching professional. For many years, he coached both boys and girls at Grayslake High. He is retired.

"That gives me more time to devote to tennis," he said.

The only tennis coach Grayslake High has known's efforts were rewarded as the Rams beat out Wauconda with 17 points.

"The beauty of this team is it is a good team that works together. We have two doubles teams which are very compatible," Keller said. "This year we had balance. This team is very dedicated. All of the effort paid off."

Rams' Eiden has simple goal

Becky Eiden has a simple goal when it comes to the 400 yard dash.

"I try to beat everybody," Eiden said.

Eiden did not have to at the sectional meet at home. She earned a trip to Eastern Illinois University to the state finals with a 1:00.3 clocking.

"I ran the 100 and 200 meter runs for the frosh-soph team, but this year I decided to stick with the 400," Eiden said.

Eiden was swarmed by teammates after assistant coach Christine McDaniel, who handled third-place finishes, gave Eiden the news.

"I thought I had finished fourth," she said.

"We knew she was capable of it because she had a 61 second split in the 4 x 400 relay against Wauconda," Rams Coach Mike Jones said.

Angela Morris of Libertyville and Jenny Mueller of Jacobs all had the same 1:03.

Jennie Dunbar earned a fifth-place in the 300 meter hurdles with a 49.9.

The 4 x 400 relay team earned Grayslake's other point 4:22.4.

Bulldog girls have priorities

Wauconda High's girls track and field team is hoping experience competing at Eastern Illinois University and the state track and field meet will offset any nerves for the May 22 meet.

The Bulldogs made school history by winning the sectional at Kaneland and advancing six individuals and three relay teams to the state meet in Charleston.

"Last year the 4 x 100 meter relay team had some jitters. There is no room for error down there," Wauconda Coach Al Willhoit said.

The Bulldogs are not, thus, getting super intense in practice.

Wauconda breezed past the field in a wind and rain-swept night in Maple Park. The Bulldogs exceeded even their own coaches' expectations with 116 points to Kaneland's 91.

"Going into the meet, I had us winning by seven points," Willhoit said.

Amy Scharlu will cap her successful Wauconda sports career by competing in four events. She won the high jump with a five-foot three-inch effort. She is a member of the 400 and 800 meter relay teams.

"She has a shot at winning a medal," Willhoit said.

Lisa Norris led the 400 team to a 53.0 clocking as Amy Winther, Scharlu and Andy Heath followed.

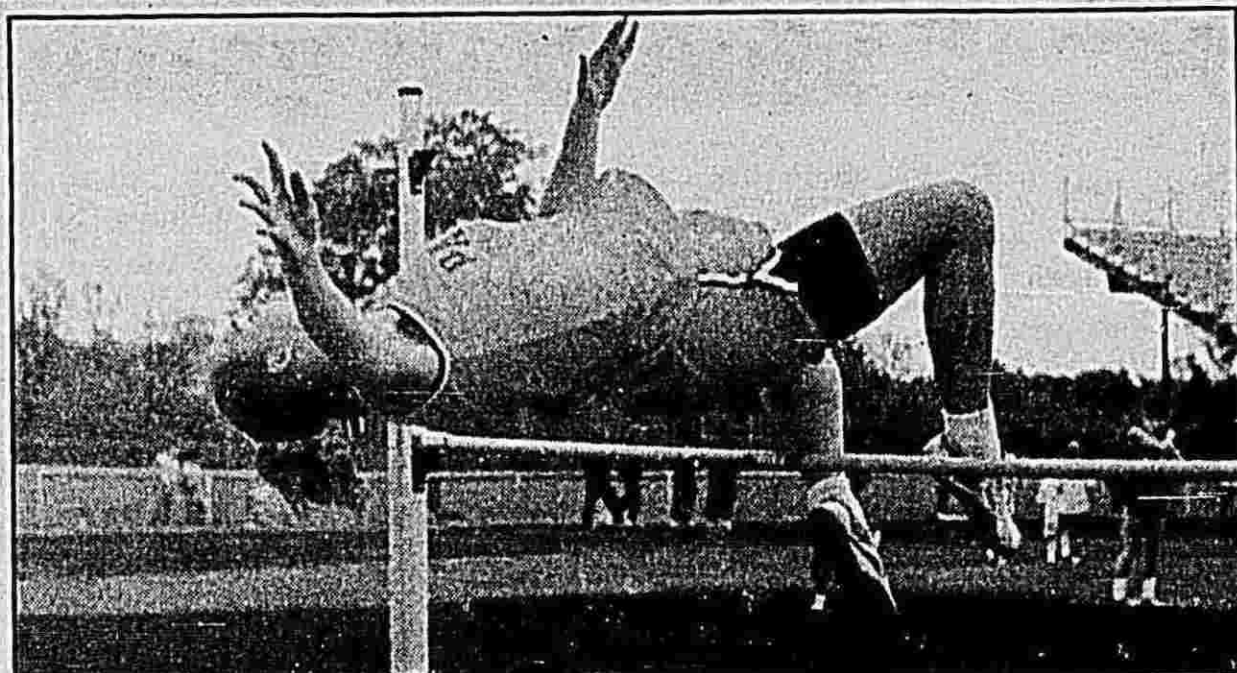

Scharlu will start the 800 followed by Majka Majewska. Jodi Rhoden and Winther.

Kristen Wisniewski qualified in the 110 meter high hurdles with a 16.5 and the 3000 hurdles, finishing second to Andy Heath.

Kathy Clark heaved the discus 96.5 inches.

Willhoit, who has been coaching track and field at Wauconda for more than 10 years, said winning the Woodstock invitational was key.

47 YEARS YOUNG ... AND GROWING!

Benefit football game to pit Knights, Zubrs

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

The Russians are coming! The Russians are coming!

Nyet, you don't have to grab your squirrel gun and head for that bomb shelter you built in the back yard in 1959.

Da, you can show up at North Chicago High School Sunday at 1:30 p.m. to see the Lake County Knights take on the touring Minsk Zubrs (Bison) in a benefit football game.

The semi-pro Knights, members of the eight-team Chicagoland Football League, have been practicing five days a week for the last two months in preparation for the Zubrs.

"Everybody on the team is fired-up for the game," said Carl Painter, vice president of the Knights.

The game will be the last in the U.S. this time around for the Zubrs, who are the Commonwealth of Independent States champions. The team is in this country under the sponsorship of a group of Michigan companies. Former Detroit Lions head coach Monte Clark has been overseeing the Zubrs' training.

While game films are a tool of the football trade, the Knights haven't been able to secure one showing the Zubrs. Painter said the Knights just received a Zubr roster and the coaching staff had to convert it from metric measurements.

The 62-player Knight squad is guided by head coach Tom Nelson. The Knights finished fourth in the league last year, their first season.

One headliner for the Knights is receiver Cliff Paul, who's scheduled for a tryout with the Lions this summer.

The Knights hope to use proceeds from the game to help Alicia Wojciechowski, a Grayslake toddler suffering from spinal muscular atrophy.

The North Chicago Athletic Department will benefit from concession sales.

A host of dignitaries including Lake County Board Chairman Bob Depke, some members of the Chicago Bears and the Great Lakes Command ROTC Color Guard are slated to attend the game.

Admission will be $5 for adults and $3 for kids 13 and under.

Bears set sights higher

Lake Zurich joined Johnsbury as teams clinching conference titles as the Bears grabbed their second Fox Valley Conference crown.

McHenry was the victim Friday, as the Bears won 9-0 and 17-4. Amanda Leineberg made it 18 wins in 19 decisions as the Bears improved to 17-0 in the Fox Valley Conference.

"She has had to be our only pitcher because Lisa Konko was hurt. She has her control now and that is what we are looking at from her. She had seven strikeouts and two walks in the first game and four strikeouts and a walk in the second game," Lake Zurich Coach Joe Kedizor said.

The Bears have their own battle for a batting title. "We are not relying on one or two people," the coach said.

For example, against the Warriors, Nicol Mikolay was five-for-eight; Amy Ohrt three-for-five with three RBIs in the second game and Deb Pope was three-for-six. "They are all pretty close right now, in the high .350s," the coach said.

The Bears finish the FVC season at home. Jacobs is the last opponent, May 21.

"We are not taking anybody lightly. We have a certain goal for the end of the conference," Kedizor said.

Stevenson gets second seed

Stevenson High School's baseball team rallied for a conference win over Fenton then learned good news from a seeding meeting Tuesday.

The Pats needed four runs in the seventh inning to down Fenton 9-7 and improve their mark to 23-7 overall, 11-4 in the North Suburban Conference.

Coach Bob Mackey's next chore was to get a home game to start the Stevenson regional May 27. He did just that, as the second seed Pats host seventh seed Deerfield. Other first-round hosts are top seed Lake Forest vs. No. 8 Wheeling; No. 4 Buffalo Grove vs. No. 5 Glenbrook South and No. 3 Highland Park vs. No. 6 Glenbrook South.

Semifinal round is set for May 29 with the final Memorial Day May 31.

Nate McNabe gained his fourth win of the year in five decisions in the Fenton game.

Mark Finn was two-for-two with two runs scored; Kevin Fredrick two-for-four with a run and Brian Robinson was two-for-three with three RBIs.

In a battle for second-place, Libertyville and Stevenson split Saturday. Stevenson took the first game 4-3 and tried to rally from a six-run deficit but came up short in an 11-10 loss. "We played really well with the exception of a bad first inning in the second game," Mackey said.

Mike Mackie, Finn and Chris Piggott have been Stevenson's leading hitters of late. Jeff Turnbull leads the pitchers at 8-1; Fredrick is 8-2 and McNabe 4-1.

Daniels' return to RL helps Rams' title hopes

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

A funny thing happened on the way for Round Lake's defense of the Northwest Suburban Conference championship.

John Daniels showed up at the Round Lake High field, but not wearing the blue and gold of his freshman and sophomore years. Instead, on Tuesday he was wearing the white and green of Grayslake. The junior came back to haunt his old teammates in a 6-3 Grayslake win. Daniels pitched in relief for four and two-thirds innings, holding down the Round Lake bats until Grayslake scored three seventh-inning runs.

The win gives the Rams an 9-4 record in the NWS. Round Lake was seeking to clinch the title with an 10-4 mark. The two teams battled at Grayslake May 20, with Grayslake seeking a three-way tie for first, Round Lake yet again the league title. Wauconda was also in the hunt for a tie.

"He has come in a couple of games in relief. He's been up and down but lately he has been limiting his walks. He has been using his curveball a little more and changing speeds," Grayslake Coach Troy Harper said.

"It's great to beat the old foes. I've definitely improved on my control. Last year when I pitched for Round Lake, I was sloppy as hell. This was the first time I played against them," Daniels said.

Senior Steve Taylor started the seventh inning which put the kibosh on the RL celebration. Aaron Strain put a perfect bunt between pitcher and first base. Two Round Lake errors later, Taylor scored for a 4-3 lead. Singles by Scott Schupp and Matt Cullen and two ground balls led to the insurance runs.

"Basically, it has been good pitching and hitting," Taylor said of his team's improvement.

For the Panthers, it was more of a disturbing trend.

"You cannot give up five errors. We were lucky to get out of the first inning with only two runs being scored. Same as the last inning. You have to field those," Round Lake Coach Jim Prorok said. "We just have to make routine plays."

The Panthers tied the game at 3-3 in the fifth inning. Mike Niemczk gained his second hit of the day, an RBI single. Scott Ellenwood had also gained an RBI.

Daniels came in and got the last out.

Corsairs gain top regional seed

Carmel High School's Mark Rapplean continued his consistent hitting attack in a doubleheader loss to Benet Saturday.

The Corsairs' leadoff hitter went three-for-three with a triple in a 5-1 loss. Carmel fell 7-1 in game two.

"He does a nice job as a leadoff hitter. You want someone who can get the ball in play and get on base and is a good baserunner. Rapplean can do all of those things," Coach Chuck Gandolfi said.

Rapplean, from Mundelein, is hitting .333. Brian Buckingham lost for only the second time of the year in the first game. Curt Salata suffered the second game loss.

"They're a solid team," Gandolfi said of Benet. The losses drop Carmel to 11-7 in the East Suburban Catholic Conference.

Carmel gained the top seed in the Waukegan regional, hosting North Chicago, the eighth seed, May 27.

Other Waukegan regional games May 27 with seeds: Grayslake (7) at Libertyville (2); Mundelein (6) at Waukegan (3) and Warren (5) at Zion-Benton (4).

Mustangs clinch NSC for eighth straight year

Ironically, back in March, when someone would ask Mundelein Coach Perry Wilhelm what would make or break the Mustangs, he would say pitching.

"That was one question mark we had at the beginning of the year was if someone would step forward," Wilhelm said.

Of course, sophomore Lindsey Prezell has, winning 20 of 22 starts. She notched her third no-hitter in the NSC of its eighth straight league title.

"It is one of the goals we have every year. Every team is different, but they all look to keep the tradition going," Wilhelm said.

Mundelein begins its quest for a second trip to Pekin in five years when it faces the Stevenson-North Chicago winner May 27.

Terilyn Starkey continues to lead the Mustang hitters. She was three-for-three in a 3-2 win over Carmel.

Mundelein swept Fenton Saturday, 12-2 and 6-0 to clinch a tie for the NSC title.

AUGS wrestlers pin down year to remember

The Antioch Upper Grade School wrestling team finished its regular season undefeated and went on to an impressive showing in tournament action.

The wrestlers were 10-0 in duals, beating Hawthorn 58-39, Harvard 61-18, Lake Villa 46-19, Johnsburg 46-43, Richmond 46-37, Round Lake 70-3, Lake Zurich 51-25, Grayslake 72-12, Viking 78-12 and Olson 55-16.

In the Northwest Grade School Conference tourney, the Apache wrestlers took first with 217.5 points. Taking firsts for Antioch were Luke Haley, Bill Werchek, Dan Werchek, Aeron Kaster, Jon Wulf, Kevin Dastic, Curt Mummer and Kevin Eberman. Seconds went to Dave Carden, Chris Placko, Chris Lindom, Mike Burian and Justin Triplett. Jason Langley and Dan Scheurer were third, while Eric Ring was fourth.

AUGS entered its bid for state by competing in the I.K.W.F. Regionals on March 6 at Dundee Crown High School. The Apaches dominated the tournament, placing 26 wrestlers in the top six and scored 237 points to claim first place.

Placing and advancing to the state sectionals were Kyle Wisniewski, first; Burian, second; Jason Bolton, second; Eric Vos, second; Lindom, third; Mummer, third; Dan Werchek, third; Wulf, third; John Horan, third; Ryan Robertson, third; John Jordan, third; Chris Belter, fourth; Dave Carden, fourth; Chris Placko, fourth; Bill Werchek, fourth; Lucas Witkamp, fourth; Scott Klinesmith, fifth; Kevin Dastic, fifth; Aeron Kaster, fifth; Greg Dickson, fifth; Langley, fifth; and Nate Carden, sixth.

Steve Alberts and Ted Sieckowski are the Apache coaches.

The complete roster included Burian, Dan Eisen, Dave Borchers, Dastic, Klinesmith, Chris Olandese, Scheurer, Belter, Bolton, Dave Carden, Chris DeFer, Eberman, Onofre Gonzalez, Kaster, Lindom, Mummer, Placko, Triplett, Dan Werchek, Bill Werchek, Wulf, Waylon Cummings, Nate Carden, Haley, Brian Hoerle, Horan, Richard Jordan, Ring, Ryan Robertson, Vos, Wisniewski, Witkamp, Dickson, John Jordan and Langley.

AUGS spring teams fare well

Antioch Upper Grade School's athletes have turned in some impressive results.

The girls volleyball team finished 8-4 and in sole possession of second place in the conference. The managers are Nikki Ultsch and Kelly Meyer.

Rockwell commits to new coach, program at North Central College

Ben Rockwell, a senior at Grayslake High School, has given a verbal commitment to play football at North Central College in Naperville.

Rockwell, a 6-0, 160-pound receiver, was all-academic in football and basketball for the Rams in 1992-93. He caught 27 passes for 297 yards in 1992.

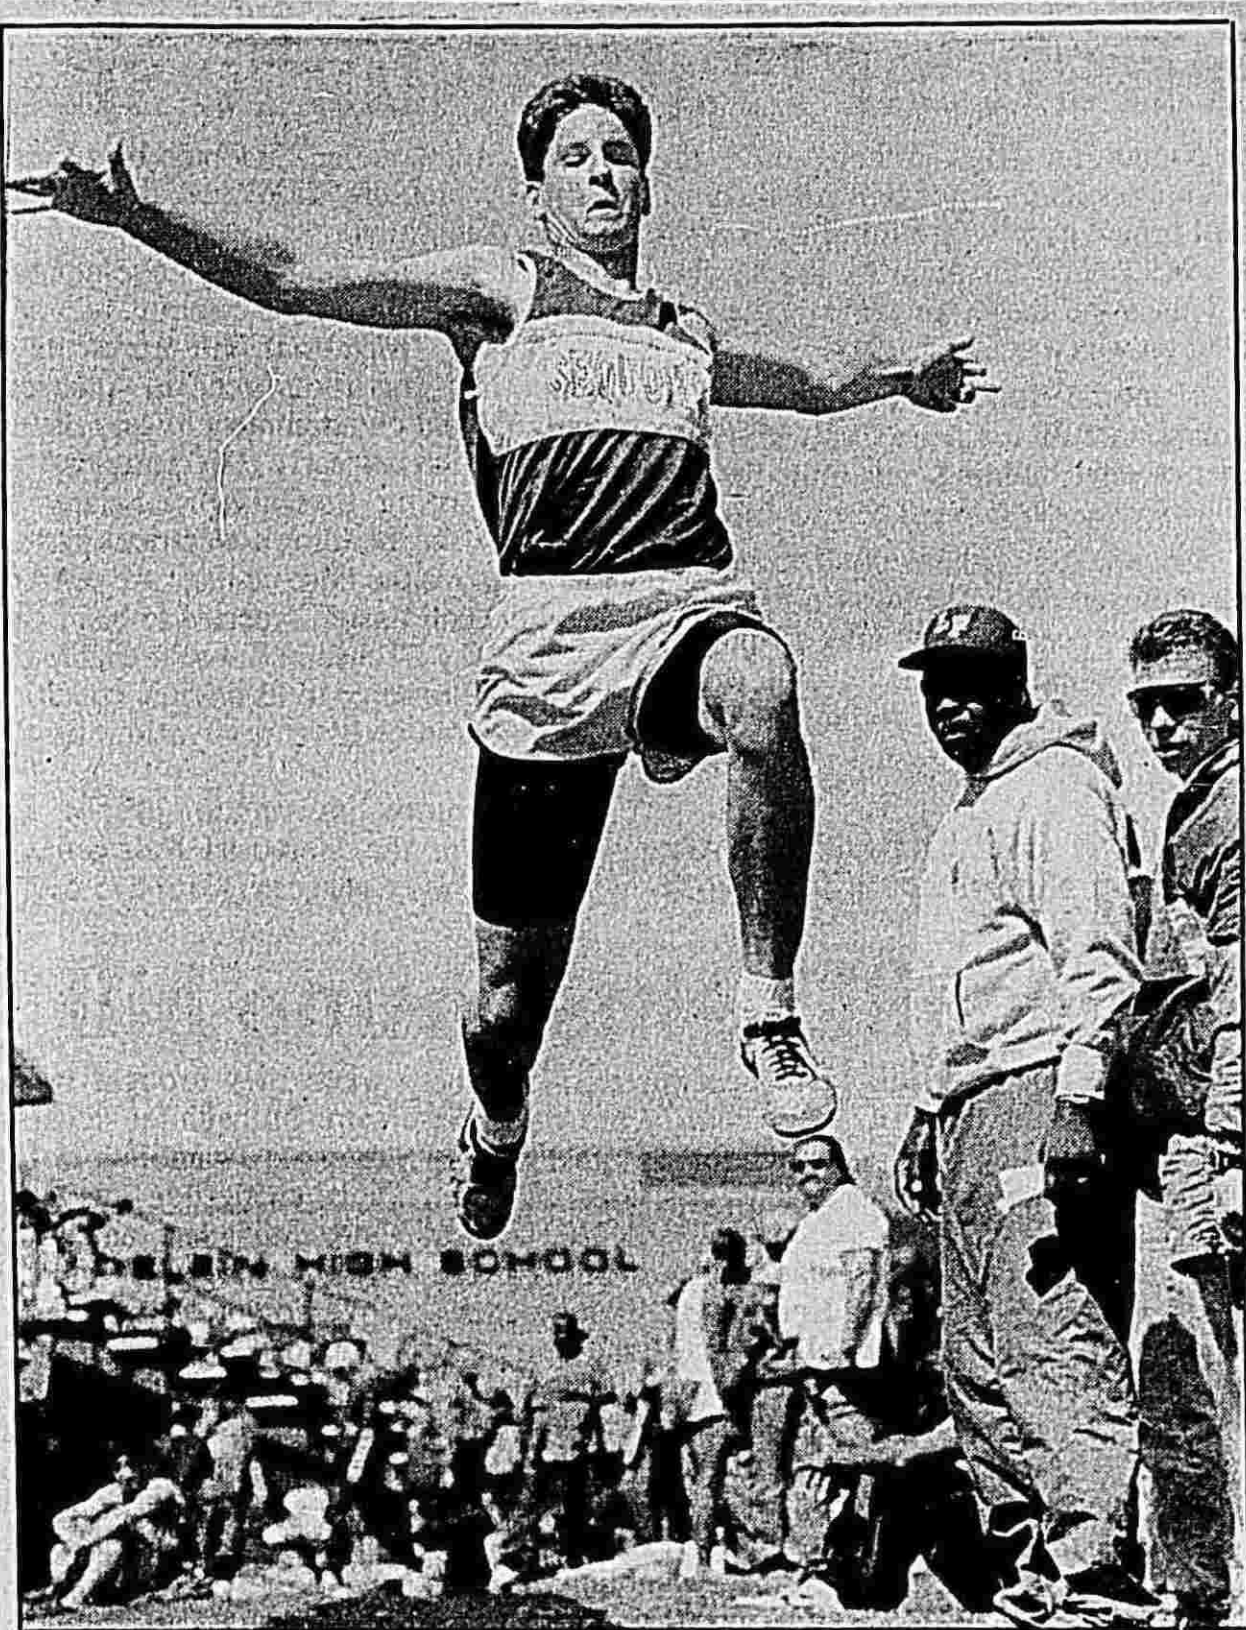

In addition to playing football, Rockwell competed in basketball and track at Grayslake. He was a member of the National Honor Society and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He plans to major in biology at North Central.

Rockwell is the son of Jim and Nan Rucker of Grayslake.

North Central will be beginning a new football era in 1993 with first year head coach Bill Mack. Mack, a former head coach at Crystal Lake High School, is a 1987 inductee into the Illinois State Football Coaches Hall of Fame.

Lindenhurst Blitz unbeaten

The Lindenhurst Soccer Club's Under-14 Blitz recorded its second straight shutout behind the goalkeeping of Allison Earl, Jill Denoma and Jessica Haynes, in a 9-0 win over Trevian 79 in Northfield.

The Blitz is now 5-0-1. The victory was highlighted by pin-point passing and strong aggressive team play. Two goals each were scored by Stacie Morley, Becca Bleyer, Tami Wright and Jessica Haynes, while Katie Hoskins added one score. Carrie Gofron, Erin Sparkman, Tammy Podborny, Rebecca Ayre, Morley, and Bleyer were credited with one assist each.

The U-12 Power was dominant but suffered a 2-1 loss to the Fichte Rams in Algonquin. The Power outplayed, outshot, and outthrustled the Rams all day, but two breakaway goals by the Rams were enough to win. The Power had many quality shots hit off the post or crossbar, frustrating their efforts. The Power continues to turn in a solid effort every week. The goal was scored by Jamie Wismer with the assist going to Jamie Jorgensen.

The U-10 Lightning battled to a 1-1 tie at Glen Ellyn. The Lightning dominated the first half with numerous shots on goal, but was unable to ripple the net. After being down 1-0 at the half, the Lightning fought back to gain the tie. In Friday night's action under the lights in Elk Grove Village, the Lightning took a tough 2-1 loss, but played very well.

Middle school advances 7 to state

Seven members of the Grayslake Middle School track team have qualified for the IESA state meet in Washington, Ill. May 21-22.

The seven earned the right to advance during the regional at Buffalo Grove May 15. Grayslake's seventh-grade girls finished third overall in a field of 15 teams.

Vanessa Nyland won the regional long jump and 110-meter hurdles to advance. Shannon Snyder, Nichole Wright, Samantha Kruger, Stephanie Eldridge and Nyland teamed to take second in the 800-meter relay during the regional and that group will go to state. Jeff Hagen took seconds in the long jump and 800-meter run at the regional to advance, while Nick Vlahos made it to state with a second place in the regional shot put.

Richmond aims to name Memorial Hall historic site

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

The effort to save and restore historical Memorial Hall in Richmond continues on May 24, when members of the project meet to discuss the formation of a board to handle future events.

Chris Gallagher, spokesperson for the Memorial Hall project, said the meeting, 7 p.m. at Memorial Hall, will be used as the opportunity to form a Memorial Hall Board, which will have the task of managing grant money and future events involving the hall.

The hall was built in 1907 and it quickly became one of the major focal points for social activities in the village. It is because of this significance, Gallagher said, that the building is now being considered for the National Register of Historic Places. Gallagher added that the hall group will present a state panel with a slide show in Glencoe on June 18, which should give the group an indication on whether or not they will make the register.

Since its construction 87 years ago, the two-story, 50 by 80 foot building has been used for a variety of social and official business by Richmond residents.

The Village of Richmond, for example, was a resident of the hall for most of the building's existence, until a new municipal building was built.

"The hall has been used as the home of politics and local government," said Gallagher. "It's been the focal point of recreation and leisure activities. It's a wonderful building."

Richmond High School used the building as its gym for basketball games until a new gym was built at the school in 1949, while the school's drama club still uses the stage for plays. This is a tradition which began in 1911.

Memorial Hall was also home to the Richmond Library from 1930 to 1991, when a new building was built for the newly formed Nippersink District Library.

Since 1991, when the last major tenant moved out of the historic structure, the hall has been used for after-school art classes, local theater productions, performances, concerts, recitals, and as a meeting place for many community groups.

Gallagher added that the Creative Arts Center of Nippersink, a non-profit corporation, thought it would be a shame if the community didn't save the building from demolition.

"It was the center for governmental and social life of the community," said Gallagher. "Memorial Hall represents an important grassroots trend in American cultural and entertainment history during the late 19th and early 20th centuries."

According to Gallagher, grants to upgrade the building's electrical system and remove the false ceilings are pending and the hall board, expected to be named at the May 24 meeting, would enable the hall to be restored to its original condition and guarantee its preservation in the future.

For more information about the meeting or the Memorial Hall project, contact Chris Gallagher at (815) 675-6524.

Churchill fights casino bill

State Rep Bob Churchill (R-Antioch) said he will continue to fight legislation designed to bring casinos to Chicago and expand riverboat gambling in the rest of the state. Churchill voted against a bill in the House that was nearly identical to last year's Chicago's casino proposal.

"With the change of five or six words, the bill would magically become a Chicago casino package. That's way we opposed this," Churchill explained. "If Chicago lands a casino, riverboat interests will be demanding more gambling boats for the rest of the state."

House Bill 2207, which was pushed out of the House over the objections of Churchill and other Republicans, awaits action by the Senate. Although proponents of the measure claimed it would impose tougher restrictions on riverboat gambling owners, GOP members pointed out that all of the provisions of the bill are already law.

"Nobody was fooled

when they brought in the same bill with the intention to expand gambling in Illinois, changed a few words and dubbed it an 'ethics bill'," charged Churchill. "We do not need any more riverboats in Illinois."

"The entire bill was nothing more than a plot by governor wanna-be Pat Quinn to court the support of Mayor Daley."

Waldenstrom leads Rams

The senior scored five goals and added two assists as the Rams blanked Lake Forest Academy 12-0 Monday. Grayslake handled Waukegan 6-1 earlier in the week.

"Allison had a very good game. She was incredible," Coach Joe Martinez said.

The coach described the star as being a "God-gifted athlete. Alli is made to play soccer. She is a great volleyball player, but even better soccer player. She is just so gifted and intelligent," he said.

The Rams won for the eighth time in 10 outings as they tried to gain momentum for next week's Stevenson sectional battles.

HEEL PAIN

A heel spur is a bony growth on the underside of the heel bone. This growth appears in response to an abnormal pull from the ligament that runs through the arch. Other factors that indicate spurs are long term standing on hard surfaces. A Bursitis usually co-exists with a spur and is what causes the pain. Treatment consists of custom made arch supports, called orthotics that relieve the tension on the ligament and pads the heel area. Surgery is rarely indicated.

If you have the above symptoms or any other foot discomfort, you may contact Dr. Winters for a NO COST CONSULTATION to see if there may be an answer to your foot pain.

Or What

First there was the bad dam control of last winter causing flooding after ice out. Now, they have placed the no wake buoys 100 feet out along the west shore of Lake Catherine instead of bisecting the north bay as they have for 19 years. Is this an oversight, politics, or what? Maybe we all voted for the wrong people.

Up To Her

No man can make the decision for a woman to have an abortion. They always have the option of leaving the mother and child. The woman is the one who has to make the decision about what is best for her. Not for her mate or anyone else. Later in life she may be asking herself if she made the right decision. Abortion is a tough choice. But it is up to the woman to decide.

It Would Be Nice

It saddens me to read there is so much negativity in this world. This world really stinks and is full of crap. It is because no one works together. No one is kind. I am not trying to sound like some saint, but wouldn't it be nice to put some positive comments in here?

Don't Accuse Me

I am a Pro-lifer that does take care of children. I do not think that Pro-choicers should die. But, don't you accuse us of not taking care of children!

Lies For Literature

Hey, all you Reclaim the Beach fans. Why didn't 60 percent of the voters vote for Ralph Davis if he is so great? He came out with lies for literature, claiming the CHA was moving out here. That is nothing but a bunch of bull, and everybody knows it. Do you have a problem with a few young black families moving to Round Lake Beach? I'm a white guy and I have no problem. You guys wanted Davis and you got him. Good luck.

Thank You

I want to take this opportunity to say thank you to a special group of women. These women are the teachers at the Millburn Church Early Learning Center. They provided a wonderful environment for my son to learn and grow. Thank you for doing something good in a sometimes not so good world.

Where Are They?

Abortion has everything to do with the death sentence. Life is a life whether it is unborn or well lived. As for a woman choosing whether or not to go through the nine month hassle, she should have thought of that earlier. Furthermore, there is a long, long wait for parents who want to adopt. Where are the unwanted children?

Unwritten Code

Stand back and listen! There isn't a cop around who doesn't deserve a ticket for one thing or another. Unfortunately, the brotherhood of officers has an unwritten code. They will not ticket or arrest a fellow officer. They do not live by setting an example. However, I have not seen this type of unethical behavior by the Round Lake Police.

A Guys Opinion

I have a question for all the childish pro-abortion people who called in with all of the name calling. Why can't women behave and be responsible? Is it too much to ask for today's women to have some values? All you can do is point fingers and name call. You are only killing babies because you can't take responsibility and plan ahead. You all know you are wrong. Grow up.

They Don't Care

The Antioch Rescue Squad feel that they have to let the entire town know when they are going on a call. They don't care if it disturbs anyone in the middle of the night. They don't care if those people sleep or not. The Antioch Rescue Squad should grow up and have some courtesy.

Get Tarped

Hey "Back Off", state law requires that dump trucks be tarped. This law is not enforced. I travel west on 173 everyday and my car is sandblasted and pelted regularly. This is despite the fact I follow these trucks at a legal interval. Last year a large rock shattered my window. Truckers, obey the law!

What's He Done

What has Bill Clinton done to deserve impeachment? Maybe that women needs to grow a brain! What high crime or misdemeanor has he committed? Just because you do not agree with his philosophy does not mean you should impeach him.

New Election

I agree with the person who said Bill Clinton should be impeached. I feel he was elected under false pretenses. We should hold another election to see if you would be elected again.

Delivers Death Sentence

The death sentence has a lot to do with abortion. Every time you have an abortion, you deliver a death sentence to that child. God loves every one of those children. There are no unwanted children.

Don't Get Pregnant

Hey Pro-choicers, this is the '90s. Don't get pregnant. Why does Lipservice put so many Pro-choice voices in the paper and not very many of ours? There are more of us than you think.

No More Boaters

The Chain is once again open to boaters. That means drunken drivers, careless water skiers, and inconsiderate trailer haulers are back for the year. Did anyone notice how nice it was this year not to have to deal with those people for a couple of weeks? Is our economy so tied up with the pleasure boaters that we have to put up with the incredible danger every year? Let's get gas motors off the Chain. Think how much better the fishing would be!

Shift Parties

Most cops deserve tickets. Did you ever notice that cops are the worst people in the world? They get away with anything they want! How about the "shift" parties. That is when they divide up all of the confiscated liquor and drugs at someone's house. Gee, maybe the cops should be checked on more often.

Transitional employment fosters independence

Even the fixing and serving of the meal was used as job skill training at the annual Transitional Employment Dinner at the Independence Center, Waukegan, on May 12. Fresh flowers decorated the cloth-covered tables, and the glazed chicken dinner was prepared and served by clubhouse members wearing shirts, black bowties and black aprons.

Lakeland Newspapers

Receiving the Employer of the Year Award was Mike Hoover, general manager of the Sizzler restaurant in Gurnee Mills.

"Our employer of the year was willing to hire our people even though he was under pressure to get his new store open on schedule," said Katherine Doyle, assistant director of the Independence Center, a clubhouse for adults with a history of mental illness. "Mike Hoover provided a really good role model in how an employer can support the workers."

"In addition, we are honoring 12 Lake County companies tonight that are training 17 of our members," said Doyle. "With your help, we are changing the stigma of people with disabilities; we want to thank you for taking a chance with our program."

"It's a win-win situation when you hire someone from the Center's Transitional Employment Program," said Hoover. "I get an employee who is more reliable, is enthusiastic about an entry-level position and who wants to work—that's 70 percent of the battle."

Victor and Carl are the two center members employed by Hoover at the Sizzler. Both men love their jobs and are walking advertisements for the Transitional Employment Program that helps members get the confidence and job skill training they need in order to be independent members of the community.

Edie, another center member, is employed by Six Flags Great America in the employee's cafeteria. "I just love working there," she said. "You gave me a chance, and I think it's wonderful that you give people a chance."

"We get great enjoyment from hearing Edie tell us about how happy she is at Great America," said Rosemary Monahan, manager of human resources at Six Flags Great America. "Plus, we like to give back to the community; we try to extend a helping hand."

"Rosemary and Jim Franz listened to me when I told them about our Transitional Employment Program," said Doyle. "They asked what our members' strengths were and matched the job to their strengths. We have four members working at Six Flags Great America now—doing a wide variety of tasks."

Tony, another center member, was pleased to introduce his former employer, Cheryl Smith. She was also honored at the dinner because she is leaving the area. "Cheryl was our first transitional employer when she was manager of the Pier One at Lakehurst," said Doyle. "She was very innovative with us and gave many of our people advanced responsibilities."

"Focus on your abilities—not your disabilities; that is the advice that I gave to the program employees," said Smith. "Plus, it always helps to have good people to train, like the members you sent from the Independence Center program."

"I figure if you have a good job and a good boss it makes life a lot easier," said Tony. He just started a new transitional placement, as club house assistant at Brae Loch Golf Course in Grayslake.

The Transitional Employment Program (TEP) is unique, the only one of its kind in Illinois, according to Doyle. The program prepares the members for employment before they take one of the six month positions. And, the center will help out if there is any problem.

Counselors at the Independence Center act as job coaches. They also learn the employees' jobs, help train the workers at the center and help them to work out little details—like how will they get to work.

An extra benefit for the employer is that the job coach will step in and work if the employee is unable to be on the job for any reason. Ken Lowden, one of the center counselors, said that only once has he needed to go to a job in place of an employee.

The Transitional Employment Program was developed in 1957 by the Fountain House, a 42 year old independent, nonprofit organization aimed at rehabilitating New Yorkers who have spent time in mental hospitals. The program has now spread to some of the 150 clubhouses across North America. In the Midwest, other clubhouses are the Independence Center in St. Louis, Vail Place in Minneapolis and Progress Place in Toronto. The Fountain House in Malmo, Sweden, is the first clubhouse in Western Europe to provide transitional employment.

Lake County employers interested in learning more about the program are invited to call Katherine Doyle at 360-1020.

A new fashioned Memorial Day picnic on the menu

This festive food served at this picnic stays well within the bounds of healthful eating. Gather your friends in a shady grove, and enjoy this picnic brimming with all the foods we love.

Grilled Cornish hens with vegetable stuffing

3 to 4 Cornish hens (3/4 to 1 lb. each) salt ground pepper
1/3 cup white wine
4 tps. Dijon mustard
2 1/2 tps. dried tarragon
1/4 cup oil
4 zucchini (about 1 1/2 lbs.), halved lengthwise
1 large red bell pepper, cored and quartered
12 mushrooms, threaded on skewers
2 Tbls. chopped parsley
6 slices crisp bread, crumbled
4 ounces light Jarlsberg cheese, cut in thin strips celery leaves

Prepare outdoor grill for cooking. Butterfly hens by cutting out the backbone of each bird; spread out flat and crack breastbone so hen lies flat. Sprinkle hens with salt and ground pepper. In small bowl, prepare basting sauce; combine wine, mustard and tarragon; whisk until smooth. Gradually whisk in oil.

Arrange hens and vegetables 6 to 8 inches from heat source on cooking surface of prepared grill. Brush with basting sauce; grill about 15 minutes for vegetables and 25 to 30 minutes for hens, or until both are tender, turning and basting often. Remove vegetables and hens. When cool enough to handle, dice vegetables into 1/4 to 1/2 inch pieces; place in bowl and stir in parsley and salt and pepper to taste.

Cut hens in halves or quarters; serve hot, warm or cool to room temperature and refrigerate. Just before serving, fold crisp bread crumbs and cheese into vegetable mixture.

To serve, arrange vegetable mixture and hens on serving platter; garnish with celery leaves.

Strawberry almond shortcake

Top this cake with tiny flags in keeping with the holiday spirit.

3 cups fresh strawberries, sliced
2 Tbls. sugar
1 2/3 cup all-purpose flour
1 Tbl. sugar
2 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. baking powder
3 Tbls. margarine
1 beaten egg
1 tsp. almond extract
1/2 cup buttermilk or skim milk vegetable cooking spray
1 1/2 tsp. unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup boiling water

Topping

1 1/2 tsp. sugar
1 cup ice water
1/2 cup instant non-fat dry milk
2 tsp. vanilla extract

Prepare topping:

Chill a large bowl and beaters. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Stir in sugar. In chilled bowl, beat together ice water, non-fat dry milk, and vanilla until very frothy. Gradually add gelatin mixture and continue beating until quite stiff. Chill for at least one hour before using. Makes about 4 cups.

Combine strawberries and 2 tablespoons sugar; refrigerate at least one hour.

In a medium bowl, stir together flour, the 1 tablespoon sugar, baking soda, and baking powder; cut in margarine until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Combine eggs, almond extract, and buttermilk; add to flour mixture all at once, stirring until mixed.

Spray an 8-inch round baking pan with non-stick cooking spray. With floured hands, spread dough into pan. Bake in a 450 degree oven about 10 minutes or until golden.

Split layer in half; place bottom portion on a serving plate. Top with some of the berries. Place top portion over berries. Spread topping over cake, and spoon on berries. Place several dollops of topping over berries.

Serves 8.
Per serving: Cholesterol (mg) 36; Fat (gm) 6 saturated 1; Calories: 203.

Vets sought for program

Veterans are being sought for enrollment in a VA sponsored research program seeking to identify patients with Abdominal Aortic Aneurysm and determine when surgery should be performed on a small aneurysms. Abdominal Aortic Aneurysm, or AAA, is a ballooning or swelling of the large artery that passes through the abdomen. This ballooning is a weak spot in the artery that can burst, resulting in death. The treatment for AAA is to do an operation to repair it before it bursts. In order to identify those patients with AAA, an ultrasound clinic has been created. The test takes 30 minutes, is painless and harmless. Those people with AAA in the range of 4 to 5.4 cm will be invited to join the study. Men and women veterans ages 50 to 79 who would like free abdominal ultrasound screening of their aorta or have any questions should call Judy Archibald at (608)256-1901, ext. 7976.

Dental care is vital to health of older Americans

National Senior Smile Week, observed throughout the United States May 16 to 22, is sponsored by the American Dental Association and the Chicago Dental Society to promote the importance of good oral hygiene for older adults.

Consider the following facts about older Americans and oral health.

- Statistics show that people age 65 and older make fewer dental visits, yet they still have important dental needs. Two out of three older adults have tooth root decay at the gumline as gums recede; most are affected by some form of gum (periodontal) disease, and many have recurrent decay around older fillings.

- Gum disease is a leading cause of tooth loss in adults. Modern dental care has new diagnostic and treatment methods that can help prevent gum disease or halt its progress.

- A common condition among older adults is reduced saliva flow that results in dry mouth. Certain medical disorders and side effects from some medications can cause dry mouth. Saliva is needed to lubricate the mouth, wash away food and neutralize the decay-causing acids produced by plaque. Left untreated, dry mouth can damage teeth and lead to other oral health problems.

- Fluoride is effective in preventing cavities in adults. While many older adults did not have the benefits of fluoride when they were younger.

- More adults are keeping their teeth in a lifetime, but if teeth are lost they should be replaced in order to maintain good oral health. There are several options available to replace missing teeth, including bridges, dentures and implants.

- Fewer people are wearing dentures, but those who do must continue good oral hygiene practices to maintain overall oral health. This includes cleaning and brushing dentures daily to remove plaque, stains and food deposits; brushing gums, the tongue and the palate with a soft-bristled brush to remove plaque and stimulate circulation; and visiting the dentist regularly to check dentures and make adjustments.

- As people age, it is essential that regular dental check-ups continue because of the role oral health has in general health. The preventive care in a dental check-up involves more than an examination of the condition of the teeth.

Dentists are trained to recognize the early signs of adverse drug reactions, oral cancer and systemic diseases whose symptoms appear in the mouth (such as diabetes, anemia and leukemia).

For more information on dental health for older Americans, contact the Chicago Dental Society at (312)836-7300.

Good, bad news about clean air in Lake County

A new report from the American Lung Assn., called "Breath in Danger II," shows that Lake County meets federal guidelines for the level of some of the most dangerous outdoor air pollutants, including sulfur dioxide and carbon dioxide. Unfortunately, Lake County exceeds the allowable level for ozone. It is estimated that 66 percent of Americans live in areas that fail to meet current health standards for air quality, an increase of 4.5 percent since 1989.

"Breath in Danger II" shows that outdoor air pollution is a problem that still affects many Lake County residents, particularly those with lung disease, said Wendy S. LeVine, director of programs for the American Lung Assn. of Lake County. The report estimates Lake County is home to approximately 8,200 residents under the age of 18 who have asthma, to nearly 14,000 adults who have asthma and to over 27,000 residents who have lung disease including chronic bronchitis and emphysema.

WLS host leukemia radiothon

WLS Chicago's Talkradio 890 AM/94.7 FM will treat its listeners to 18 hours (6 a.m. to midnight) of celebrities along with stories of triumph of both medical technology as well as the human spirit, May 21.

For the third year, WLS will depart from its usual format of listener phone-in participation to deal exclusively with interviews and commentary from patients, family members, medical professionals, and celebrities concerning leukemia and related cancers. WLS will feature much of its regular line up of "on air" personalities: Don Wade and Roma, Roe Conn, "Ty and Ed" and Catherine Johns.

Among the celebrities scheduled to appear are: Allison Rosati (WMAQ-TV), Janet Davies (WLS-TV), Jack Brickhouse, Irv Kupcinet, Michael Huff (Chicago White Sox), Aaron Freeman, David Orr and Bill Zwecker to mention a few.

"Radiothon" will broadcast live from the East Tower lobby of the Hyatt Regency Chicago at 151 E. Wacker Dr. People are invited to come down and view the marathon broadcast.

For further information, contact: The Leukemia Society of America, 6 N. Michigan Ave., Suite 506, Chicago, IL 60602, (312) 726-0003.

Having a baby at Victory was a wonderful experience for all of us.

When my pregnancy test was positive, we were so excited. Having a baby was a totally new adventure for us and we wanted everything to be perfect. Seeking out lots of good information was important. We needed to make informed choices about our entire birthing experience.

After checking around and interviewing several hospitals, it was clear that Victory was our best choice. Everyone at their New Family Center was so warm and friendly. We learned a lot about pain management and baby care in their childbirth classes. And, we could choose to have our baby in one of their lovely birthing rooms.

I received a great bag of baby gifts from Victory, and my husband and I were treated to a celebration meal in a special dining room.

With my second on the way, I already know that my choice is Victory Memorial Hospital.
